Pain of budget softened by tour of mansion

MIXING BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

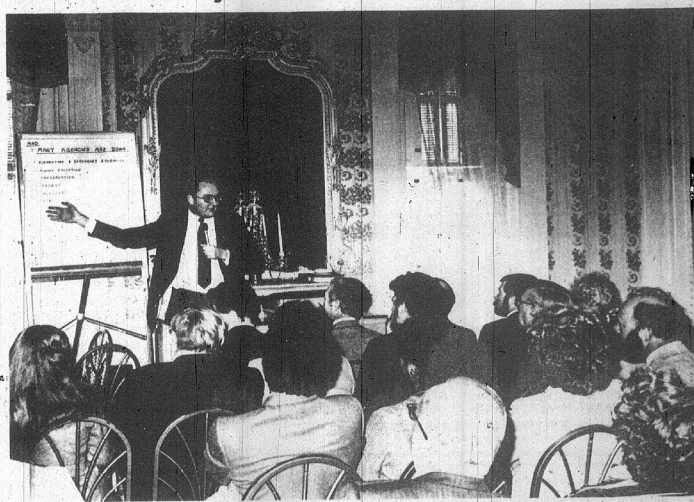

And with history, Governor and Mrs. James Thompson host about 100 newspaper reporters from throughout the state at the Executive Mansion. The event, held during the weekend, included an exhaustive three-hour session in which the governor explained in advance the proposed budget he presented yesterday to the General Assembly (Photo at right).

After the budget session, newsmen were treated to a tour of the Executive Mansion, conducted personally by the governor. In the photo at left, Thompson explains some of the appointments of the Lincoln Room as he sits on a bed which was owned by Abraham Lincoln. He explained that the bed was a gift to the Lincoln family, but the late president never got to see it, since he was assassinated before he had an opportunity to return home.

The tour of the Executive Mansion gave the governor an opportunity to display his considerable knowledge about Illinois history and about antiques, of which the stately mansion is full. The work of some of the state's finest furniture craftsmen of the past has been used in decorating the mansion, the governor said.

The look at the serenity of the past conflicted with the reality of the present as the governor warned that his budget proposal contains "43 areas of pain," including reduced funding for public education and mental health programs.

Debate existence of and use for GC 'windfall'

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

Granite City needs new running police cars, reliable ambulances and working street department equipment plus a long list of capital improvements after enduring a barren budget year, but an opportune $453,000 "gift" comes wrapped in a sheaf of questions.

Does the nearly half-million dollar bonus — supposedly resulting from a surplus in the 19th Street Overpass construction fund — really exist, or does the city still owe the state for the project?

If the funds materialize, will they be gobbled up by a deficit estimated at $565,000 by year's end?

What departments will get a share of the funds if there are any left to divide?

Granite City aldermen will meet in a special caucus Tuesday, March 16, to draw up a wish list of improvements. The session was scheduled after a flurry of requests for the funds surfaced on the council floor Tuesday night.

Alderman Everett Morlen's motion to seek bids for six police cars prompted the other aldermen to bring up the needs of their particular committee departments.

Although the council did finally approve Morlen's motion, which may produce a bid as high as $50,000, aldermen have not yet determined whether capital improvement funds are available.

At the Feb. 16 council meeting, aldermen were asked to approve a resolution, moving the $453,000 from the overpass fund to the city's general fund. The immediate rationale was an immediate need to cover that month's bills. The transfer was approved as a loan intended to be repaid to the overpass fund as soon as possible.

The $453,000 figure was only an estimate of funds remaining after all overpass funds were paid. According to City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic, the estimate was based on conversations that David Nolan — former administrative aide to the mayor — held with City Engineer Monroe Brewer and Ed Schulze, the traffic engineer who was involved in the daily progress of the overpass project.

Schulze said he contacted the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) — which is paying for the project and then billing Granite City for the costs — and was given an updated estimate of $234,215 still outstanding in overpass bills.

The engineer said the figure does not include "last-minute" bills that may have already been paid, but not yet recorded. If accurate, the updated figure would leave only about $219,000 in surplus.

Schulze calls the city's cost overrun fortunate and a rare happening in construction. A variation of up to 10 percent overrun is not unusual for large projects, he said. Schulze cited a number of variables which may affect an engineer's original cost estimate.

According to the engineer, the state may take up to six more months before releasing the bottom line overpass figures to the city. It depends on IDOT's workload, he said.

Can the council then afford to spend the funds for capital improvements, as they had originally been earmarked by the city's Chicago bonding company?

According to the city comptroller, even if the city nets the full $453,000 and the funds are used gradually to pay daily bills, Granite City will still be more than $100,000 short by December.

Comptroller Miklovic said the deficit could be considerably larger, if the constitutionality of the city's 3/4-percent locally-collected sales tax is successfully challenged. He has included both the revenues from the sales tax and five percent telephone tax in his projections.

Only a more bountiful than anticipated sales tax revenue could bring in extra revenue at this time, he said. The comptroller said he had encouraged the transfer of the overpass funds at the Feb. 16 council meeting to keep the city "from coming to a grinding halt," due to unpaid bills.

Miklovic said the aldermanic caucus on capital improvements will be "basically a discussion...we haven't got any increase in revenue."

What capital improvements are aldermen likely to request? According to Alderman Paul Bowler, chairman of the finance committee, the city "needs it for everything — that's the problem."

Bowler said aldermen are tentatively eyeing about $100,000 that could be left over. He said the city made no capital expenditures last year and is in need of equipment.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer told the Granite City Council Tuesday night that six new police cars are of the utmost necessity for his department. "I asked for new cars last May," Veizer said.

The police department now uses 1980 model cars with several registering more than 75,000 miles of travel. Police

Announce plans for new bank and store

The Granite City (Trust and Savings) Bank, 1909 Edison Ave., demolished the former Granite City Boat and Motor facility at 24th Street and Madison Avenue in anticipation of constructing a new named banking facility. That was among the good news offered by city officials this week after issuing several commercial and industrial building permits.

The new permits also included remodeling for a new tenant in the former Libson Shops store at 19th Street and Edison Ave., which will reopen as Casual Wear Ltd. as soon as remodeling plans are completed, said Thelma Pyles, manager. A tentative opening date of March 15 has been scheduled.

Another project for which a permit has been granted is a $3.6 million apartment project in Town & Country, involving 122 apartment units to be developed by SEMCO, Inc., which developed the rest of Town & Country East. The permit for the apartment complex was granted to Stanley Lucas Jr., president of SEMCO.

A permit to demolish the former Granite City Boat and Motor building was granted to Granite City Trust and Savings Bank and demolition was completed this week. The razed facility also served as the campaign headquarters for Granite City mayor campaigns twice in the past five years.

The bank's shareholders were notified by letter that a planned banking facility is to replace the razed structure. Bank officials said yesterday that they are in the process of gathering information on the proposed facility and plan to make an announcement next week of detailed plans for the new banking branch.

Petrillo ignores transfer of funds

Granite City's dwindling $453,000 "overpass windfall" (discussed in story above) has not yet reached the city's general fund — despite a Feb. 16 council resolution and some back bills — because City Treasurer Nick Petrillo is having second thoughts about the propriety and speed of the transfer.

City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic had advised the council to immediately transfer the money last month to cover the city's February bill list.

Although the city treasurer has been criticized in the past for putting off bill payments, Petrillo said he is not "holding back," but only waiting a few weeks for revenues to arrive from sources other than the uncertain overpass surplus.

Told by both Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the finance committee, and Comptroller Miklovic that the city had insufficient funds to meet last month's obligations, the council approved a resolution to take money from the apparent overpass construction surplus and to deposit the funds in the city's general fund.

When Bowler made his request for the fund transfer, he said a longer wait was not feasible, in view of the impending bills.

Petrillo, however, said yesterday that he hesitates to take the funds from their current certificates of deposit before maturation March 21. He also said he wants to find out for himself how much, if any, surplus funds actually are available.

During the current "tug-of-war" between the caution of the city treasurer and the action of the city council, the funds in question continue collecting interest — while some city bills remain unpaid.

Petrillo said he had planned to pay the bulk of February's bills yesterday, but could not estimate the amount of bills that would have to wait.

The treasurer said he does not oppose the resolution passed by the council; he simply feels certain bills can wait a little longer.

Bowler told the council before the resolution was approved last month that the city had received cautions from two or three creditors. At that time, Petrillo asked the council to let the

Venice teachers to be 'honorably dismissed'

Notices of honorable dismissal for faculty members in the Venice School District are expected to be authorized by the Venice Board of Education at its March 15 session. Forty teachers received the notices last year, but most were subsequently rehired.

At this week's meeting of the board, members agreed to hold a public hearing on the dismissal letters at 7 p.m. Monday, March 15.

By law, the school districts are required to notify teachers of their dismissal within 60 days of the end of a school year.

Granite City and Madison public schools also are in the process of preparing honorable dismissal lists and setting up the required public hearings, in compliance with Illinois law.

"A public hearing prior to the notices being issued is now part of the process," Venice Supt. Robert N. Vickers explained to the board. "I intend to take a careful and close look at the situation and will make a recommendation concerning the dismissals at the next board meeting," the administrator said.

The board will hold its next regular meeting immediately following the March 15 public hearing.

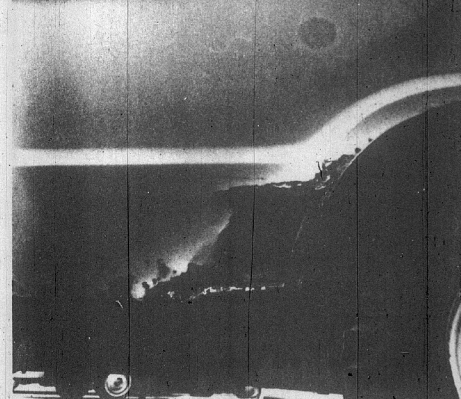

"For at least the past 12 years, we've had to issue the notices to teachers at the Lincoln Center (Venice-Lincoln Technical Center) to protect ourselves in the event there is further cutback of funds," he explained.

In March 1981, honorable dismissal notices were hand delivered to 40 teachers in the Venice School District with 17 years seniority or less, and copies were sent to their homes by registered mail.

During the public hearing prior to the board authorizing the 1981 letters, several faculty members expressed their concern about the policy.

At that time, there were 57 faculty members and administrators employed in the Venice schools.

SHOWING THEIR AGE. A large rusted through area in front of the rear tire of one of Granite City's fire department ambulances is but one example of how the city's equipment is deteriorating. Ambulances, police cars and other expensive equipment are in need of replacement, city department heads contend. A freeze on capital purchases during the past fiscal year, brought on by a city cash bind, is blamed for the poor condition of much of the city's equipment.

Vadalabene attends state budget briefing

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), vice-chairman of the Appropriation II Committee of the Senate, attended a budget briefing by Director of the Office of Management and Budget, Dr. Robert Mandeville, Tuesday, in the governor's mansion.

"Given the present state of the economy and shadowy prospects for the future it is urgent that we examine this budget proposal with a fine tooth comb," Vadalabene said.

"We must look with special care at our income prospects," Vadalabene added. "We must know, within reasonable limits, how much we have to spend. We also must recognize the serious problems affecting education in our state. Present and future progress in fighting unemployment depends upon a sharp and skilled work force."

"All the citizens of Illinois and particularly those of the 56th District can rest assured that Senator Sam will be paying close attention at this presentation of the state's fiscal picture," Vadalabene concluded.

The governor's budget proposal was presented to the full General Assembly yesterday.

GC DeMolay Chapter to mark 60th anniversary

A 60th anniversary banquet, sponsored by James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will be held on April 5, in celebration of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the local DeMolay Chapter, which is the oldest in Illinois. The dinner will be held at the Granite City Township Hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, and will be open to the public, both men and women. Members of DeMolay over the past 60 years are especially invited to attend.

Granite City DeMolay is known as the "Mother Chapter of Illinois," being the first chapter organized in the state, on May 24, 1921. The local chapter is also the oldest chapter of the International Order east of the Mississippi River. On Jan. 1, 1968, the chapter was renamed the James Stuart Chapter in memory of James "Uncle Jimmy" Stuart, who served for 33 years as chapter advisor.

Throughout its history, the local chapter has been among the leaders in Illinois in athletic and ritual competition. Many trophies adorn the DeMolay case at the Masonic Temple. One of the most noteworthy is the DeMolay National Basketball Championship Trophy won in 1939. For several years, James Stuart Chapter was the largest in Illinois. In 1960, the local chapter received a "top ten" award from the grand secretary of the International Order of DeMolay.

Serving as chapter advisor is Charles A. Meyer. He is assisted by Ellis N. Hackney, the chairman of the advisory Council, and by the following Advisory Council members: Hiram B. Ables, Ralph W. Baker, John Bellotti, William B. Berger, Richard W. Chambers, Charles C. Chapman, William A. Cochran Jr., C. A. "Jack" Dempsey, Robert Ebrecht, Wendel Gritz, Robert Hebblewaite Sr., Charles E. Hileman Jr., Kelly J. Hogan, Edward W. Lane, Martin D. Love, Robert F. Maxwell, Ralph F. McKinney Sr., William J. Mehl, Charles E. Mize, Edward D. Nida, H. Gene Payne, Fred Riddle, E. Gene Ross, Ernest E. Rouland, Harry G. Sharp, Gerald L. Singleton Sr., George Slattery, Representative Everett G. Steele, William Sternberg, Jimmy E. Stuart, Anthony P. Tsigaloroff, R. Gilbert Watson, Roy L. Wilimzig Jr. and Thomas L. Worthen.

Three state master councilors, R. Gilbert Watson, Irvin C. Slate Jr. and Charles E. Hileman Jr., have been elected from the local chapter. Peggy Carson was elected Illinois DeMolay Sweetheart in 1970, and Kathleen (Pammy) Rathewicz was accorded that honor in 1972 while Denise Lewis was first.

runner-up in 1971. DeMolay was brought to Granite City by the foresight of Granite City Chapter 221, Royal Arch Masons, who have continued through the 60 years to be the local chapter's sponsoring body. Gerald Owen Daniel was the first master councilor. The first Legion of Honor recipient was William J. Mehl, a 33 degree mason, who also was the fifth master councilor.

Two honorary degrees are conferred by the International Order — the Chevallier, for marked DeMolay activity and the Legion of Honor, for outstanding adult leadership that served God, country or humanity, and for Master Masons (who never were DeMolays) the Honorary Legion of Honor, for meritorious service to the order. The chapter presently has 100 Chevalliers, 38 active Legion of Honor and 12 honorary Legion of Honor members.

Young men between the ages of 13 and 21 are eligible to seek application to the International Order and if accepted for membership are conferred with two degrees, the Initiatory and DeMolay. A masonic relationship is not required for membership. The order is named after Jacques DeMolay, who was head of the Knights Templar during the reign of Phillip the Fair of France, because of the exemplary qualities of character he possessed.

Officers which govern the chapter are 22 in number and hold offices for six months. When the chapter was organized in 1921 the term of office was three months. James Stuart Chapter installs both a senior and junior line of officers which are headed by a master councilor. The present senior line master councilor is Patrick Gibbons.

The chapter is also supported and aided by a Mother's Club whose membership is open to relatives and friends of DeMolay. It was named "Granite City DeMolay Mother's Circle" when organized in the 1930s and later changed to "Granite City DeMolay Mother's Club." Mrs. Verna Stuart was responsible for its beginning. The Mother's Club has been an important factor in the success of the local chapter over the years. The present Mother's Club president is Mrs. Ruby Sullivan.

Tickets to the anniversary dinner are $7 and will be available at Andy Anderson's Service Station, Cohen's Food Store, Dempsey-Adams Auto Body, First National Bank in Madison, Gene's Auto Body, Granite City Glass, Nameoki Road, Hundey Auto Sales, O'Brien's, Schermer's Super Market, Skotky's Jewelry, Steele-Kunemann Agency and Walker's Jewelry.

Q. It seems although there must be a fair amount of federal regulations concerning banks one doesn't hear quite as much hue and cry about them as those regulating, say, the chemical or nuclear energy industries. What are some of the federal regulations concerning consumers with which you must comply.

A. There are more than 30 documents needed to comply with federal rules, and conservative estimates place the cost to banks for compliance at more than a half billion dollars a year. A very incomplete list includes the Fair Housing Act, the Consumer Credit Protection Act, the Credit Control Act, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, Regulation B of the Federal Reserve Board Amendments to the truth in lending provisions of the Consumer Credit Protection Act, and the list goes on. Many of the laws serve much needed purposes in protecting the consumer. However, most experts agree, that if nothing else, it is time for a little simplification.

Venice teachers

Supt. Vickers said this week it is almost certain most of the teaching staff at the Venice-Lincoln Center will be affected by the dismissal notices. The adult education-vocational school primarily is financed with federal and state funds and administered by the Venice School District.

"Some teachers at the center with many years of seniority in the district would be transferred back to the public schools, if the funding needed to keep the center operational at its present level is further reduced," Supt. Vickers explained.

Negotiations toward a new working agreement are continuing with Local 98 of the Building Services Employees Union, it was noted.

The previous Local 98 two-year contract, covering 16 custodians, cooks and secretaries employed by the district, expired June 30, 1981. By mutual agreement, however, bargaining sessions did not commence until January.

The school board learned this week that seven custodial employees had unofficially accepted the last proposal, which was submitted by the administration's negotiating team.

However, four cooks and five secretarial employees have not yet signed their acceptance of the proposal, it was noted.

In order to complete payment of a new motor education vehicle—a six-passenger 1982 Dodge Aries K—a total of $4,000 was transferred in the budget from the contingency fund to capital outlay.

The new auto with a sticker price of $9,074 was accepted by the district Feb. 26 at a cost of $6,992.

In other business...the board authorized payment of $945 to grade school and high school teachers who have worked at basketball games during the 1981-82 season. Faculty members are paid at a rate of $15 per game.

Approved placing Gary Hawkins, a 1975 Venice High School graduate, on the substitute custodian's register.

Agreed to a request from Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrator, for the board's Personnel Committee to interview applicants for a nurse's assistant position in the nurse aide program.

Members also discussed changing storage provisions for a tractor and a Jeep truck belonging to the school district, which presently are stored at the home of an individual due to lack of storage space on school property.

Board Attorney Michael Bilbrey said storing school-owned equipment on private property could present a legal problem concerning insurance coverage.

Petrillo ignores

overpass fund certificates mature first, earning the city about $20,000 in interest. Miklovic contended the funds could be reinvested after the transfer, with no loss of interest. "I just don't think we should put the money in the general fund at this time," said Petrillo yesterday.

Explaining why he made the choice not to act immediately on the council's resolution, Petrillo said he planned to contact the bonding company to check the legality of the funds transfer. Petrillo had asked city engineer Ed Schulze to talk to the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) as a safety check, to insure that "everything is paid" concerning the overpass project.

(Tuesday Schulze said his check with IDOT indicates that the city may still owe $234,215 of the $493,000 left for the overpass construction.)

Petrillo also said he wants time to discuss the matter with an attorney representing the Granite City Steel division of National Steel Corp. He said this is necessary to determine if the transfer would affect the contribution the company made to the city to complete the overpass funding.

When the company made the gift, it appeared that the city lacked the necessary funds to build the overpass.

"I'm going to check...how the (steel) contract reads," Petrillo said.

Another factor in his hesitation was the absence of the mayor when the vote for the transfer was taken. Petrillo said the transfer arrived at this desk without the mayor's signature and with handwritten notations.

The treasurer said he will try to keep the funds in the bank as long as possible. Whether or not he decides to transfer the money before the March 31 certificate maturation date depends on how well the city's 3/4 percent sales tax covers the bills which are due for payment.

He said the city now has received a total of $80,000 from the sales tax and he is satisfied with the returns.

Petrillo said he also feels the earlier than usual sale of city vehicle tax stickers will help out revenues. "We've got bills to pay," he said.

According to the treasurer, the only significant bill that will be missed in February is a $28,000 payment for the city's self-insured health insurance plan.

Meanwhile, the city comptroller said that past bills still are showing up from 1979, 1980 and 1981. Recently discovered past bills now total $11,000 and the city's extra snow clean-up efforts may cost an additional $39,000, although motor fuel tax funds may cover that expense.

Miklovic had projected a $170,000 deficit for the end of the city's budget April 30, before he asked that the overpass funds be transferred.

At Tuesday night's city council meeting, Miklovic informed aldermen that the city overspent its budget for January and February by about $57,000.

In addition, the city still has $600,000 in tax anticipation warrants to pay and another $900,000 is needed in catch-up funds for the self-insured workmen's compensation fund, police and fire pension funds and accumulated sick leave pay.

Miklovic said that, according to the bonding company which arranged funding for the city's overpass, the "windfall" funds can only be used for capital improvements, the original purpose of the bond loan.

However, despite the legal opinion of City Attorney John Papa that the funds should be used for capital improvement since the city is not able to afford capital improvement projects at this time, he explored other possibilities.

In Miklovic's opinion, one possibility is borrowing the money for general fund uses, if the money is paid back to the 19th Street Overpass Fund for future capital improvements.

Savings on school food

Financial savings are being predicted for the Granite City school lunch program as a result of a food commodity program approved Tuesday night by the Board of Education.

Supt. B. J. Davis described it as "another way in which we can reduce our costs and bring about still more positive actions in our cafeteria operation."

Michael Kanak, assistant food director of the school district, said, "It was negotiated with Open Kitchens, Inc., to make use of government commodities owned by our school district, in exchange for credit on purchased food."

"These credits will be done on a trial basis to evaluate whether it would be desirable to include commodity credits in the next annual cafeteria bids."

"It will be in effect from now to the end of the school year, a span of 13 weeks, excluding Easter week."

"Open Kitchens will reimburse at $1.15 per pound for ground pork and 10 cents per pound for flour. Our saving on pizza from this week to June 4 is estimated at $3,918."

"They will reimburse us for cheese supplied for use on cheeseburgers at $1.10 per dozen purchased, an expected net gain of $2,681 after freight costs are paid."

"Annualized over 35 weeks, the savings would be $10,549 on pizza and $7,220 on cheeseburgers, through unit savings of three cents on a pizza serving and nine cents on a cheeseburger."

"The total commodities to Open Kitchens will be 91 cases of cheese, 55 cases of ground pork and 60 bags of flour."

On another board action, it was decided to pay the Dave Croft automobile agency 12 cents per mile for use exceeding 7,000 miles each of five previous driver education cars, a total of $2,776.

Specifications for the mileage contract were developed during a time of transition in the school district's business office, a board discussion brought out.

School Attorney William Schoonover reviewed the contract and a related letter in school files and recommended the payment.

Seek warrant on car theft

Granite City police are seeking a warrant today against an East St. Louis man, who allegedly stole a bright yellow 1980 Corvette Stingray from Mathews Chevrolet Co. 1511 Niedringhaus Ave., at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday.

According to official reports, the man went for test drive in the auto, accompanied by a salesman. Upon returning to the agency, the employee got out of the vehicle to open the door into the garage area and the prospective customer drove away.

It was learned the auto was chased by Illinois State troopers in the East St. Louis area and later was spotted outside a residence. A man arrested at the dwelling was identified by the Mathews salesman, the report stated.

The alleged thief was booked at St. Clair County Jail, Belleville, where he remained today, pending issuance of a warrant.

YOUTH SUSPENDED FROM NORTH HIGH

A 16-year-old student at Granite City High School North was caught with cannabis in his possession on school property by an assistant principal at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday.

The youth was suspended from classes for a five-day period and was charged with possession of cannabis. He was released to his mother on notice to appear for a hearing.

Still hope here for the Siberian six

Granite City Rotarians were addressed Tuesday by a national church leader who hopes to obtain a visa to visit Russia and confer with six persons residing in American Embassy facilities.

The Rev. Nathaniel Urshan, general superintendent of the United Pentecostal Church, is seeking to negotiate for the release of the group, known as "the Siberian six."

The two-family group, originally consisting of seven persons, took refuge in the embassy several years ago in the hope of obtaining asylum in the United States.

The seventh, a lady, became ill and was treated at a Soviet hospital. She later was returned to Siberia and has been unable to forward to the central Soviet government her request for an exit visa.

Despite the discouraging progress thus far, there is still hope in this nation that it will be possible to secure their release. If they are turned over to Russian authorities, they could be in severe jeopardy, it was asserted.

About 500 Christian Evangelicals from a number of faiths are seeking to leave the Soviet Union, which has discouraged religion and also takes a dim view of departures from that country, with freedom of religion gathering was told.

Rev. Urshan is thought to be a potentially effective negotiator because his father, converted many Russians to Christianity in visits there a half-century ago.

He and two other church leaders are working closely with the U. S. Department of State. They have not yet learned whether Russia will permit them to make their proposed trip.

Rev. Urshan contrasted repression behind the "iron curtain" with freedoms enjoyed in the United States.

The speaker was introduced by Jim Hudson, program chairman. Occident Robert Maxwell presided and noted William F. Winter's 35-year Rotary affiliation.

Charge man, 21, with resisting

Thomas E. Gifford, 21, of 2607 Highway 67 (Missouri Avenue), was arrested at home at 10:35 p.m. Tuesday, March 2, by police officers. He was arrested about 15 minutes earlier in which he allegedly was involved.

Police said the accident occurred in an alley, 23rd Street and Logan Avenue when an auto struck a utility pole, causing considerable damage to the pole and the vehicle, and then left the scene.

A witness alleged a green and white auto traveling north in the alley at high rate of speed with its headlights off struck the pole, police said.

Officers located the vehicle, which had sustained heavy damage to the left front fender, at the Highway 67 address. It was alleged the engine still was hot.

Gifford, who appeared to have an injury to his face, denied the accident had been moved and used abusive language toward the officers, calling them obscene names.

When told he was under arrest, Gifford allegedly offered resistance and force was needed to place him in a squad car. He was charged with resisting arrest. Traffic charges also are pending.

Gifford declined medical attention and he was lodged in a cell at 1:05 a.m. Wednesday, an officer found a blanket in the cell had been torn into strips and one man allegedly threatened to harm himself. A constant check was maintained on Gifford throughout the night.

Illegal dumping in Chouteau Township

Anthony G. Patterson and Eric I. Mills, both of Florissant, Mo., were released from the Madison County jail at 3:30 p.m. Monday, after each posted $100 cash bond on a charge of illegal dumping from a motor vehicle.

Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Richard Anderson denied the arrest at 1:25 p.m. Monday after being alerted by two Chouteau Township employees who allegedly saw the two men dumping from a pickup truck on Roman Road, just south of West Chain of Rocks Road.

The Madison County Sheriff's department has been cooperating with Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner Wilfred "Bud" Eberhart to try and keep the roads clean.

Numerous arrests have been made the past few weeks as township employees are watching for dump trucks, pickup trucks and autos filled with items which may be dumped along the roads.

Eberhart said that prosecution will take place of anyone dumping illegally in Chouteau Township. He also commended Deputy Anderson for his alertness and concern over the problems of the township, which is spending considerable manpower and time removing dumped trash.

Hearing on faculty dismissals

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record
A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 23, on the honorable dismissal of teachers because of economic reasons.

The hearing will be conducted by the Granite City Board of Education, which continues to adjust the size of the faculty due to budgetary problems and enrollment decreases.

Enrollment in January 1982 in Granite City public schools fell by 81, from 9,804 to 9,743, latest records show. New entries totaled 416. Of 477 deleted from the school rolls, 96 students transferred in the district, 48 moved within Illinois, 66 moved out of the state, 60 graduated, 19 were dropped due to lack of attendance or interest, and there were 188 other student withdrawals due to such factors as health, child support, immaturity, return in mid-semester, transfers within the school building, work, marriage and enrollment in parochial schools.

After the faculty size hearing is completed on March 23, the board at 7:30 meeting that evening will act on honorable dismissals that are to be effective at the close of the 1981-82 term.

Each spring in recent years, the school district has given advance notification to employees of scheduled honorable dismissals. The goal is to reduce the overall size of the school staff.

As retirements and resignations occur, those on the dismissed list are given first consideration for being filled by the school year, or no later than June 10 of the year or years prior to their resignation or retirement date.

"In order to qualify for this policy, an employee must have a minimum of 120 days of sick leave accumulation."

"The amount of compensation to be paid cannot exceed one-third of the maximum dollars in the year of the election for compensation. Wages and sick leave will be reduced by the percentage formula in effect at the time of election."

"The intent of this policy for certificated personnel would also provide 35 days of unpaid sick leave for longevity payment in the pension plan. Employees may also defer unused earned absence pay after retirement."

"Non-certificated personnel would be governed the same as certificated personnel, except the notice of retirement or resignation must be given before Dec. 15 in the year or years prior to their retirement or resignation."

Adoption of a resolution calling the March 23 hearing took place after Terry Salem, administrative assistant for personnel, noted that Illinois Statutes, Chapter 122, Sections 26-12, require a public hearing "prior to any honorable dismissal of staff due to declining enrollment, economic conditions, etc."

He added, "Based on this and the possibility that it will be necessary for us to reduce staff at the meeting March 23, I recommend a 7 p.m. hearing."

Supt. B. J. Davis submitted the resolution for board action and commented, "Based on information we are receiving from the state, we can expect no increase in our state aid monies in 1982-83 and, in fact, may witness a decrease."

The board eliminated its meetings scheduled for March 16 and April 6.

The schedule of regular sessions now calls for the next meetings to take place on March 23 and April 20.

"We need a street sweeper...we need a grader," said Alderman Michael Modrusic, chairman of the street and alley committee. He said the funds should be distributed equitably.

"We've got two or three ambulances that should be replaced...with front ends broken down," said Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the ambulance committee. Whitmer contended that emergency vehicles should be given first consideration, if funds are available.

Alderman Bowler argued that areas other than emergency affect the safety of residents. He said the city paid out between $150,000 and $200,000 last year in personal injury judgments. Neglect of sidewalks and streets could result in additional suits, he said.

Alderman Warren Decatur then made a motion for a caucus of committee chairmen to meet at 7 p.m. March 16 to discuss the specific needs in individual departments.

cars run 24-hours-a-day every day of the week, the chief said. Three engines already have been replaced.

Veizer told the council he initially requested 11 vehicles, then cut that request to eight and finally to the latest request for six cars.

"I have to have some vehicles to move our people," he said, adding, "We're hurting now."

The department has, at times, resorted to doubling-up manning in the cars and switching working hours to fill available cars. "Really a sad the now-vacant Libson Shop facility, Mrs. Pyles, former manager of the local Libson store, said the store will employ about six full- and part-time employees that had worked at Libson. Casual Wear is a company name with individual franchisees. Mrs. Pyles said no local owners are involved in the chain network store here. One well-known partner is Robert Cryder of the New England Patriots.

The manager said one possible reason Casual Wear might have selected the Granite City downtown location may have been the success of the Libson Shops store.

Although store was profitable, The Libson Shops St. Louis-based chain decided to consolidate several area-stores. Granite City was one of the victims of that move.

Mrs. Pyles described the new business as a "specialty" shop that will offer a men's, women's and junior wear in the moderate price range. More expensive lines will also be available.

"We are completely redecorating," the manager said.

TROOPER HONORED. Corporal Edward R. Allen, right, of Granite City, is honored by Illinois State Police Superintendent R. J. Miller, left, for exceptional performance and achievement in the Illinois State Police PFR (Policing for Results) Program. Allen is an expert in the area of second division vehicle enforcement.

Opposition for Slattery, Emde

Two veteran Granite City Republican precinct committee members seeking re-election March 16 face ballot opposition.

Filing against Committee member George R. Slattery, 2248 Woodlawn, in No. 24 was Maxwell M. Forbes, 2423 Waterman.

Precinct 33 Committee member Walter J. Emde, 2411 Cleveland, is opposed this month by Neal C. Kelsa, 2519 Cleveland.

Election of at least three new GOP committee members in Granite City is assured—Albert L. Stevens III, Edward C. Fitzhenry Jr. and Janet K. Wilson.

In Precinct 7, where Paul Lynn is retiring, the lone candidate is Stevens, 2302 Adams.

There is no GOP committee member in GC 17 at the present time. Fitzhenry, 2718 Center, is running for the party office.

In GC 23, John Michaels is retiring and is to be replaced by Mrs. Wilson, 117 Riviera.

Six current party officials are seeking re-election and have no opponents on the ballot. They are:

Precinct 12's Dale G. Hyle, 2627 E. 24th; 14's David M. House, 2924 Iowa; 26's Harold Stallings, 2686 Grand; 30's Thomas C. Harmon, 10 Briarcliff; 31's Delton R. Groothuis, 2599 Spalding; and 32's Kent C. Holsinger, 3286 Newell.

In seven Granite City precincts, incumbent Republican committee members are retiring and no one filed for their positions.

Those retiring are: Precinct 9's John F. Huber, 2820 Emree; 11's Richard Mathenia, 2996 Washington; 21's Darrell W. Downing, 1530 Cottage; 22's James Talley, 1840 Spring; 34's Harold Dupont, 2000 Pontoon; 35's John Gordon, 3152 Colgate; and 37's Floyd Watson, 2424 Kilnary.

These account for 18 of the 37 GC precincts. In the other 19, nobody filed for committee member for the two-year term starting this year and there are no 1980-82 committee members.

These 19 precincts are Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 13, 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 25, 27, 28, 29 and 36.

Democratic rally Sunday

The Granite City Democratic Precinct Committee's Organization will sponsor a "Workers' Rally" on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the YFW Hall, 2044 Washington Ave. All Granite City Democratic Precinct Committee members are invited to attend and are urged to bring their precinct workers and friends to meet and talk with the candidates who have been endorsed by the State police honor to GC Trooper Allen

Corporal Edward R. Allen of Granite City has received special recognition for exceptional performance and achievement in the Illinois State Police PFR (Policing for Results) Program.

At a recent meeting held at the District 11 Headquarters in Maryville, R. J. Miller, superintendent of the Illinois State Police, presented a meritorious service award to Cpl. Allen.

Captain Laimutis A. Nargelinas, commander of District 11, said, "The award is presented in conjunction with the State Police Employee Recognition Program to individuals in the district who have demonstrated exemplary performance and achievement in the PFR program."

Cpl. Allen has demonstrated his total commitment to the District-Division PFR program as it relates to a division goal of insuring a safer traffic environment through a continued high level of supervision of second division and commercial vehicle safety equipment regulations and compliance of Illinois truck weight limitations.

Allen supervised the portable scales details in the district, which resulted in 1,348 trucks being weighed. This resulted in 51 weight arrests, 127 overweight warnings (under 2,000 lbs.) 94 other arrests, 174 other warnings and two violations.

Numerous P.F.R. truck surveys also were held at various locations throughout District 11.

Cpl. Allen is viewed by his subordinates, peers, and superiors as an expert in the area of second division vehicle enforcement, Miller said.

Allen is a 25-year veteran with the Illinois State Police and resides in Granite City.

Jobless benefits extended

Notices will be mailed to 80,000 unemployment insurance claimants in the state informing them that they may apply for extended benefits for the week beginning March 7, if they qualify.

Persons who previously received unemployment insurance benefits, and whose benefit year has not expired, may now apply at their local unemployment insurance office for extended benefits.

The extended benefits are a supplemental unemployment program which provides benefits to claimants who have exhausted their regular entitlement. The benefits have been reinstated due to the fact that the insured unemployment rate exceeded five percent for the 13-week period ending Feb. 20.

Claimants in this program, in most cases, are entitled to 13 additional weeks of benefits. They receive an extended benefits weekly benefit equal to their last weekly benefit on regular unemployment insurance.

"Claimants who may be eligible for extended benefits will be notified by letter of the date and time they are to report to their local office in order to avoid excessive waiting time. Persons who do not receive such notice by March 10 should contact their local office immediately," said Agaliece W. Miller, administrator, Bureau of Employment Security, Illinois Department of Labor.

"The current extended benefit law has more stringent requirements than were previously in effect. Among these is the requirement that a claimant must make an active search for any type of work which he or she is physically and mentally able to perform, and must present a record of these efforts."

BRUISED IN CRASH
Dolores Mitchell, 37, Cahokia, taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center late last week after an auto accident, was treated for bruises to the right leg.

Weekend retreat attended by Scouts

Boy Scouts of Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph's Catholic Church, have returned from a weekend retreat at Holy Family Novitiate, Dulzow, Mo.

Retreat master was the Rev. Jim Wuerth, novice master for the Missionaries of the Holy Family. The session is designed for Scouts earning the Ad Altare Dei and Pope Pius XII Religious Emblems Awards in scouting. The Ad Altare Dei award is the oldest religious emblem for scouts to earn. It is intended for high school scouts.

Morning and evening prayers with the novices of the Novitiate and five retreat conferences were attended by the scouts. The boys also attended daily Mass, with Scouts Eric Markovich and Greg Hagen serving at the masses.

Williamson, David Piner, and Steve Kusmierczak Jr., doing the readings.

Upon arrival, the scouts viewed a movie and the scouts gave the Novitiate a two-hour sneak preview of "Circus '82," which the Troop will present at St. Joseph's Church on Saturday, April 3. The boys took a day hike in the Dutzow area and participated in "search and rescue" procedures.

A "Uno championship" was held, with Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Karl Markovich winning the troop championship and the Uno Championship Certificate for 1982. Leadership Corps champion was David Piner; Flaming Arrow Patrol champion was Joey Kusmierczak and Cobra Patrol champion was Karl Markovich.

Transportation was provided by parents, Steve Kusmierczak, Robert Hagen, Joseph Barron, and Larry Williamson.

The public is being invited to attend fish fries on Fridays, March 12 and 26, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 2100 State St. Jack Salmon and cod dinners are $2.25. Sandwiches and carryouts also are available.

Painter assails present managing of county funds

Fred Painter, one of three Madison County treasurer candidates in the March 16 Democratic primary, replied Tuesday to allegations voiced last week by Treasurer Michael Henkhaus.

Painter assailed the incumbent's management of taxes and investments.

"In response to my opponent's press conference of Feb. 26, I submit the following information," Painter said.

"During the tax year of 1980, my income was $26,453. In that same year I also earned $202 in interest on different bank investments.

"Tax returns for 1981 have not been filed yet; however, my returns going back through the year of 1984 are available for inspection," Painter said.

"It is interesting to note that the present treasurer attributes his entire income to his political position. Perhaps he should indicate to the public that he has lived off of Madison County tax-payors his entire adult life.

"Not only has he (Henkhaus) held political positions for years, but members of his family have also held paid political positions.

"The present treasurer indicates an abhorrence to political organizations, but when asked at his recent appearance before the Madison County Democratic Central Committee if he would share the costs of the upcoming election—I think he now refers to it as a 'lug'—he said, 'Yes, if it is reasonable.'

"The present treasurer says he works for the people, and he calls the treasurer's duties a full-time job.

"Unfortunately, after two full years in office, he cannot find time to establish a sound money management program. During this same time, millions of dollars lay uninvested in area banks," Painter asserted.

"I guess he was there often enough to make sure he violated Illinois State Statutes by having too much money invested in six individual banks. Who did this benefit? Why wasn't this action investigated?

"It's time to start talking about the issues. Suddenly, it's election year and investments increase.

"Tax distributions suddenly become more timely. Why? Because it's an election year.

"If the present county treasurer had been doing a good job, he wouldn't have two qualified candidates seeking his position in the Democratic primary.

"The present treasurer has not and will not answer questions concerning the Price Waterhouse accounting firm's audit recommendations made to the county's management in June 1981. He has continually tried to skirt the real issues in the campaign.

"Come on, Mike, it's time to start talking about something you keep avoiding—the day-to-day operation of the Madison County treasurer's office," Painter concluded.

National Steel may sell Weirton plant to workers

National Steel Corp. announced Tuesday that as part of its ongoing effort to direct its capital funds to areas of highest return, it has decided to substantially limit its future capital investments in the Weirton Steel Division, Weirton, W. Va.

In view of this decision, National said it is considering various possibilities for the future of the division. It initiated discussions Tuesday with the independent steelworkers union and the independent guard union which represents employees at its Weirton Division, and with the management of the division, which possibly could lead to the sale of the entire division to its employees.

Howard M. Love, chairman and president of National Steel, parent firm of Granite City Steel, said, "We believe employee ownership of the Weirton Division is a viable option for meeting our responsibilities to our stockholders, Weirton Steel's employees, the Weirton and surrounding communities and our customers.

"Employee ownership appears to be economically feasible at Weirton and is preferable to any other alternative.

"In addition, it would enable Weirton and all of National's steel divisions to continue their long-term relationship and commitments with our customers without any interruption.

"I am hopeful that employee ownership can be worked out before the end of this year for a price that is fair to the corporation and fair to the employees at Weirton," Love said.

National said its decision to ask the Weirton management and its unions to consider employee ownership is not the result of economic conditions. Rather, it represents the strategic corporate plan that has been under development for some time.

The goal of this plan is to provide substantially improved and consistent returns to National Steel's stockholders in the future. Weirton Steel has been marginally profitable during the past five years, Love said, and it has the potential for significant improvement under employee ownership.

Such ownership, among other things, may give Weirton the opportunity to obtain advantageous loans to meet the plant's capital spending requirements. These types of loans are not available to National Steel.

Even though Weirton is equipped with modern basic oxygen furnaces, continuous slab casting, and the most advanced computer-controlled cold-rolling mill in the world, its capital requirements during the next few years will be substantial.

"It is not economically feasible for National Steel to commit such large amounts of capital at Weirton," said Love.

"Funds would have to be diverted from other projects throughout the corporation which have the potential for substantially higher returns than at Weirton.

"Employee ownership could not only strengthen Weirton, but it enable National to strengthen its other divisions and subsidiaries," Love said.

The Weirton Steel Division is located 35 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

It was one of the original companies which merged to form National Steel in 1929.

Weirton is one of the two largest industrial firms in the state of West Virginia and is the state's largest employer. It currently employs 3,900 persons and has nearly 2,600 on layoff.

The Weirton Steel Division is primarily a producer of hot-rolled, cold-rolled, galvanized and electroplated steel sheet, and a full line of tin mill products including plates, chromoplate, blackplate and a new nickel-coated material which will be marketed this year.

Approximately half of Weirton's shipments are consumed by the container industry and the balance is shipped to a wide variety of markets, including automotive, service center, appliance, building products, tubing and electrical and mechanical equipment.

In 1981, Weirton shipped nearly two million tons of steel products, had sales in excess of $1 billion and earned less than one percent net after taxes. Its current value of assets exceeds $370 million.

Seek rezoning on Route 162

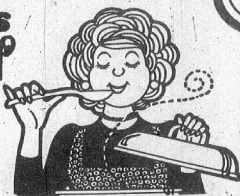

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two one-site public hearings Tuesday, March 9, in Nameoki Township, including one on a request by John W. Reese for rezoning of land along Route 162 approximately 600 feet east of Mockingbird Lane from agricultural zoning to an M-2 general manufacturing category.

A spokesman for Reese Drug Stores said that Reese was on vacation this week, but said the rezoning was not for the pharmacy chain. John Reese is to be represented by his attorney, Maurice Dailey, at the hearing, county records indicate.

The hearing will be at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday on the site of the proposed rezoning. It will follow a 9:10 a.m. hearing at 2100 Hildebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, where James Richey is requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home for up to five years. The property is zoned R-4 for single-family residential use.

to maintain the services the people want and expect, without raising taxes to keep the county financially balanced."

His more than three years on the County Board have included service on the environmental control, health institutions, and personnel committees as well as the committee of Service Area 1.

He was nominated for vice-chairman of the Madison County Board after two years' board service, losing by two votes.

He adds, "When I was elected by the voters in November 1978, my promise was to represent the public's interests on the board. My promise remains the same—to work hard, deal honestly and be fair with each and every person in my district. I will utilize my experience and qualifications to the best of my ability to serve my constituents."

"Now, more than ever, we need solid, capable people in government to assure the best possible return on our tax dollars in terms of services and development."

"I will oversee and protect county funds to make sure they are used with the highest degree of efficiency and fairness possible. I assure all that I have the time, knowledge, energy and experience to serve local citizens and all of Madison County."

MORRIS MILES

The present, Madison County Board member from District 16, Morris W. Miles, is seeking the Democratic nomination March 18 to continue in that office. Opposing him in the primary is Chester Whyers Sr. District 16 is located in Chouteau Township and includes the Mitchell, South Roxana and Hartford areas. The primary victor will run in the Nov. 2 general election against a Republican, Terry Nidhardt or Eric L. McDowell.

Miles, 47, of 118 Kinder Lane, Mitchell, is vice-president of sales of Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling, Inc. He has been associated with that company for 20 years and has resided at the Kinder Lane address 18 years.

Born in Stewart County, Tenn., he has been a local resident for a total of 29 years. He is of a Protestant faith.

Miles graduated from Stewart County High School, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville industrial management program, and the Pepsi-Cola Management Institute, from which he has a bachelor of marketing degree. He received an honorable discharge after two years' active Army duty.

President of the Chouteau Citizens Club, he is a past president and past member of the Mitchell volunteer fire department. He also was active in the Mitchell Athletic Club, Mitchell Jaycees and Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Miles in addition to serving on the County Board has been the Democratic precinct committeeman for ten years in Chouteau Five. He is a past member of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee and its executive board, and past chairman of Chouteau Township Democratic committee.

He is a past candidate for town collector, town board member and school board member. He and his wife, Joann, have two children, Jennifer Ann and Morris Wayne Miles Jr. He comments, "Among my qualifications for seeking the office of County Board member is my extensive management experience, both in my chosen career and in elected offices."

"I have proven my ability to serve not only the people of my district but also the entire county. I have responded to the problems and needs of the people."

"In the last three years, we have made considerable progress in resolving most of the problems associated with the Special Service Area sanitary sewer system, which became operational in February 1981."

"Since that time, we have assembled a competent staff of employees and have moved into a permanent building. But there is much still to be done."

"We will solve the problems concerning private sewer systems within the district, such as Meadowlawn, Gaslight Walk and Quiet Valley. "Also, sewer service is not available to some people living within the sewer area. We will deal with that."

Chairman of the special sewer committee, Miles says, "I was opposed to a sewer rate increase last year and will be opposed to any rate increase in the future. We hope that when everyone is connected onto the system, rates could be decreased. That will be my goal."

"I feel that the problems facing the County Board center around solving the county government's financial squeeze."

"The growing disparity between revenue and rising costs, together with the loss of federal funds, means we must work harder—in order

CHESTER WHYERS

Chester E. Whyers Sr., 59, of 556 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, is seeking nomination in the March 18 Democratic primary for the District 16 seat on the Madison County Board. He opposes incumbent Board Member Morris Miles.

Whyers was born in Edwardsville but has resided the last 50 years in the Quad-City area. He received his education locally, graduating from Granite City High School, now GCHS South.

He recently retired from the Mitchell area's Luna Cafe, which he operated for many years.

He also was employed in lathing and plastering and has been affiliated with Carpenters Local 73 of the St. Louis District Council for 35 years.

Whyers also is affiliated with Teamsters Local 825 and Operating Engineers Local 520.

He is an associate member of the Madison County Police Association, the Madison County Tavern Owners' Association and the Illinois Retail Liquor Association.

Current memberships include the Granite City Elks and Moose lodges, Disabled American Veterans, Full Moon Masonic Lodge in Grafton, the Tri-City Shrine Club, Anad Shrine Temple and the Consistory at Belleville. He is a former member of the Mitchell volunteer fire department and the Mitchell PTA.

Whyers is a member of St. John United Church of Christ. He and his wife, Vera, have three grown children.

The candidate said he believes that he could represent the district well "because I am a union man and am affiliated with good union people."

"I have been in the neighborhood nearly all of my life and I know it well. I know most of the County Board members and I have plenty of time to attend meetings, night or day."

Plan meeting on home financing

Persons interested in obtaining more information about the varied methods of financing new and existing homes may attend Realty World Star, Inc., Home Financing Information Night. The meeting, to be held Tuesday, March 9, will be open to the general public and may prove valuable, especially to persons considering purchasing or selling real estate in today's market. Types of financing to be discussed will be the Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) 10% percent loans, interest-free loans, buy down interest rates, VA and FHA, contracts for deed, loan assumptions, adjustable rate mortgages and variations of the above to include other owner-assisted financing.

Representatives from the financial industry will be present to answer questions concerning these areas of financing.

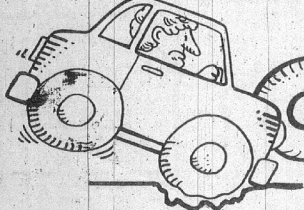

According to James Holified, president of the St. Louis Home Builders Association, home buyers who do not familiarize themselves with the intricacies of the various adjustable-rate mortgages now widely used by savings and loan institutions may be their own worst enemies when they shop for mortgage financing. "The new loans, which carry interest rates that are raised or lowered periodically to reflect what savings and loan associations are paying for their deposits, are the wave of the future," Holified said.

With some of the new methods available, buyers whose incomes did not qualify for mortgages last fall should ask their housing expenses to be recalculated at today's rates. They may be surprised at what a difference only a few points in interest can make, Holified suggested.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 9, at the offices of Realty World Star, Inc., 3701D Nameoki Road. There will be no charge for persons attending, but reservations should be made in advance by calling 876-0024.

West Virginia U. honors

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

For the fourth consecutive year, Dr. Daniel H. Zlatz, a former Granite City resident now on the faculty of West Virginia University, has been honored as an "outstanding teacher" for 1980-81.

Fifty university instructors from 14 schools and colleges, which comprise West Virginia University, located at Morgantown, were accorded the "outstanding" honor and received varying awards from the different schools they represented.

An awards presentation and tea, honoring the recipients, recently were held in the Mountaineer Lounge at the University Coliseum.

Although the criteria for selection varies from school to school, Mary Jane Hitt of the university's Academic Affairs Department said that students and faculty play an equal role in the selection process.

"This is an evaluation of each recipient's teaching ability, and who is a better judge of that than the students?" Miss Hitt said.

The decision is based on the student evaluation forms filled out at the end of the semester by students and faculty committees within the respective school.

Dr. Zlatz is on the faculty of the university's School of Physical Education, where he teaches the philosophy of sports and elementary and secondary methods in physical education. He also coaches the school's badminton and tennis teams.

"I am very proud to be named an outstanding teacher," the former resident said.

"Good teachers are very important, and I had some very good teachers in both the Madison and Granite City schools," he added.

Dr. Zlatz is on the Student Discipline Committee at West Virginia University and, although he considers himself a strict teacher, he finds little resentment among the students because of his stand on discipline.

"If I hadn't had some strict teachers while in school, I probably would have played instead of learning," the award winner commented.

Dr. Zlatz attended Madison schools until his junior year when he transferred to Granite City High School, where he was graduated.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Zlatz, 2656 Benton St., the educator is married to the former Ruth Stanfield. The couple has a daughter, Natalie, 7 years old.

The former resident received a bachelor of arts degree from William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo., and a master of science degree from Western Illinois University at Macomb in 1967.

He earned a doctor of philosophy degree in health-physical education from the University of Utah at Salt Lake City in 1973.

During his college career, Dr. Zlatz was active with his school's wrestling and basketball teams. He also completed post-graduate studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Northeastern Illinois State University at Chicago.

Several of his articles have been published in the Journal of Physical Education and Recreation and he also writes for a health education magazine.

Dr. Zlatz is a member of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Lambda Chi Alpha.

He has been a member of the West Virginia U. faculty for the past eight years and won outstanding teacher awards in 1974-75, 1976-77 and 1978-79.

GC office honored at company banquet

RE-MAX Realtors of Madison-St. Clair counties hosted their first annual awards banquet at Fischers Restaurant in Belleville recently.

The Granite City RE-MAX office had the honor of receiving the first annual Traveling Award for being the top producing office in listings and sales in Madison-St. Clair counties with a total of 274 transactions in 1981.

Ron Corey, manager, Brenda Phillips and Gaye Flood, agents, were each honored for being among the top 10 agents recognized for their overall production excellence in Madison-St. Clair counties in 1981.

Walter Shang, Greathouse of Granite City, placed among the top five agents in both the Top Listing Agent category and in the Top Producer category.

Mary Ritchie of Granite City, placed among the top six agents in the Top Selling Agent category and was among the top six agents honored for being one of the top producers in the company in 1981.

Gaye Flood, already a 1981 member of the Million Dollar Club with the National Association of Realtors, received three first place awards for being the Top Listing Agent, Top Selling Agent and overall Top Producer of the six RE-MAX offices in Madison-St. Clair counties in 1981.

Despite the recent slump in the real estate industry, RE-MAX of Madison-St. Clair counties experienced a 62 percent increase in production in 1981 over the previous year.

River Bluffs Council to build new center

The River Bluffs Girl Scout Council Board of Directors voted at its February meeting to enter into a contract with Joiner-Winfield Construction to build a council service center in the Ginger Creek area south of Edwardsville.

After an extensive two year study by several task forces which evaluated all the possibilities, building seemed to be the most economical way of providing the needed services for the 9,850 girls and 1,700 adult volunteers.

In addition to providing much needed office and storage space for program supplies, the new service center will house an equipment store to handle Girl Scout merchandise, a conference room for trainings and meetings, and a library with program resources for leaders.

The public is invited to attend the groundbreaking ceremonies on Wednesday, March 17 at 11 a.m. The United Way Agency welcomes contributions of funds or materials for this project, according to a council spokesman.

Mother seeks missing girl

Pamela Adams, 15, has been missing from home since Thursday, Feb. 25, and her family is concerned the girl is being held somewhere against her will.

Mrs. Irene Adams, 2415 Washington Ave., mother of the missing girl, said her daughter called about 8 p.m. Friday, sounding very nervous and excited. "Pam said, 'Mom, come and get me. I'm in West Granite, but I don't know where. I've got to hang up now.' She hung up the phone and we haven't heard from her since," Mrs. Adams said.

Anyone knowing the girl's whereabouts is asked to contact the Granite City police at 677-6111, or call Mrs. Adams at 678-0302.

Pamela is about 5 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 110 pounds and has medium-length blonde hair, feathered around her face, and blue eyes. She was wearing bluejeans and a red and white windbreaker-style jacket.

Pamela, a sophomore at Granite City High School South, attended classes Thursday and about 8:30 that night said she was going to walk to a girlfriend's house.

The mother said that when the girl failed to come home, she went to the address where Pam was supposed to be, but no one answered the door.

She thought the girls may have fallen asleep watching television and didn't become too worried until Pam failed to come home and get ready for school Friday morning. Later, she found out her daughter had not attended school that day.

According to Mrs. Adams, Pamela's girlfriend also is away from home, but her family has received phone calls and said they have not seen the Adams girl.

"I know by the phone call Pam wanted to come home, but we don't know where she is. This is the first time she has left home," the mother said.

CLIFFORD H. FORE, 74, a retired member of the SIUE faculty, died Monday at Oliver Anderson Hospital in Maryville. Funeral services were held Wednesday in Edwardsville, with the Rev. Boyd Wagner officiating.

Wagner was a member of the Clarence W. Klassen award for outstanding service in water pollution control, presented by the Illinois Association of Water Pollution Control Operators.

retired in 1977, Mr. Fore was an assistant professor in the department of engineering and technology, and associate director of the Environmental Resources Training Center at the time of his retirement. In 1975, he was recipient of the Clarence W. Klassen award for outstanding service in water pollution control, presented by the Illinois Association of Water Pollution Control Operators.

Democratic lieutenant governor candidate to be at rally Friday

Grace Mary Stern, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Illinois, will be the principal speaker at a primary election rally to be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Edwardsville.

All Democratic candidates in the 1982 primary election will be allowed to speak in behalf of their candidacy. Mrs. Stern will be available for questioning. She is married and has seven children and three foster children. Her husband is an attorney and formerly Democratic chairman of Lake County.

Mrs. Stern, 57, is a graduate of Wellesley College, Mass., and was elected county clerk of Lake County in 1979 by a one percent majority. This was the first time in 44 years that a Democrat was elected to a county office in Lake County. In 1974, she was re-elected with a 65 percent majority and re-elected again in 1978 with a 60 percent majority. She is considered one of the strongest "vote getters" in the state of Illinois, an aide contends.

She has been a member of the Democratic National Committee since 1977 and was a delegate to the National Convention in 1980. She was hand-picked by Adlai Stevenson to be his running mate and they are running as a team. They have a Stevenson-Stern headquarters in Chicago.

CHARGES AGAINST 2

Gerald Thornton, 22, Troy, was arrested for transporting open beer cans and Gregory Hoffmeister, 24, Creve Coeur, was charged with possessing alcohol while in an auto in the 2100 block of Richmond Avenue last week.

LAWNMOWER TAKEN

A 21-inch self-propelled lawnmower worth $200 was stolen from the yard of John Barnett, 2012 Missouri Ave., last week.

mander; Andrew Gitchoff, senior vice-commander; and Rolland Fiedler, junior vice-commander.

Citizens' Utility Board is proposed for state by Quinn

Patrick Quinn of the Political Honesty has filed a petition with the Illinois Commerce Commission asking the ICC to conduct hearings and promulgate a rule creating an Illinois Citizens Utility Board to represent the interests of residential utility consumers.

If created, the board would hire full-time attorneys, accountants and other professional staff to appear at ratemaking hearings before the ICC and to conduct other lobbying, research and education projects on behalf of consumers.

"The ICC routinely grants 80 to 90 percent of the rate hikes utility companies request," Quinn said. "In the last five years, electric rates have increased 93 percent and natural gas rates 106 percent, while the inflation rate has totalled only 65 percent."

"It's obvious that utility consumers need the type of effective voice that the Citizens Utility Board will provide," Quinn said. The Illinois board will be patterned after the successful CUB in Wisconsin, which has attracted 63,000 members in its first year of existence. It has intervened in 20 rate cases and reduced rate hikes about $43 million.

The rule submitted to the ICC provides that no public money would be spent on the board, which would be funded entirely from voluntary citizen contributions. All residential utility users would receive a special enclosure with a utility bill which would explain the CUB and urge them to mail a contribution in a business-reply envelope which also would accompany the bill.

Consumers also would have the option of marking a check-off on the bill itself which would instruct the utility company to add the contribution amount to a monthly bill, collect the contribution, and forward it to the CUB. The board would reimburse the utility for the cost of the initial solicitation and the check-off process.

Quinn said membership in the Citizens Utility Board would be open to any utility consumer, 18 years of age or older, who contributed at least $3. The entire membership would be eligible to elect the board of directors which would manage the CUB and hire its staff.

Six of the 14 board members would be elected from the First Judicial District (Cook County) and two from each of the state's four remaining judicial districts.

Quinn said CUB "will do a job that's not being done now and it will do it better than a politically elected or appointed public advocate could. Such an advocate would use tax dollars and be accountable to a political party or sponsor. The board will use no public money and be accountable only to its members."

"By pooling a large number of small contributions, the board will have resources which simply aren't available to current consumer advocates and community groups, who are overwhelmed by the hundreds of thousands of our dollars big utilities spend to capture unjustified windfall rate hikes."

Quinn said the CUB concept, which Ralph Nader called, "perhaps the most creative consumer idea of the last generation," has been proposed in several other states. In Missouri, citizens are petitioning for an initiative which would create a CUB.

Illinois voters currently do not have the initiative power to propose laws by petition and referendum. However, the Coalition already has collected 110,000 of the 252,000 signatures it needs to put a constitutional amendment creating the initiative power on the November ballot.

A bill to create a Citizens Utility Board was introduced last year in the General Assembly and referred to a study committee. Quinn said the ICC can act without such legislation because it has the authority to promulgate rules necessary to "further more effective regulation of utilities."

Quinn said persons interested in the Citizens Utility Board may write to the Coalition for Political Honesty, Post Office Box 708, Oak Park, Ill., 60303, or phone 1-312-624-1878.

VOTE VADALABENE

TUES., MARCH 6

"KEEP GOING WITH SAM"

PAID FOR BY VADALABENE FOR SENATOR CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

WILLIAM WEBB

Webb served five years as president of the Quad-City area's industrial union council of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) and coordinated its merger with the trades council of the American Federation of Labor (AFL).

He was chairman of the AFL-CIO merger committee, and subsequently served as vice-president of the AFL-CIO Trades and Labor Council.

Webb is regarded as a key leader in obtaining construction and establishment of the present modern juvenile home building, authorized in a bond issue election.

He has served continuously on committees related to the juvenile detention program since it began 25 years ago.

He comments, "In the drive to get a detention home, there were a number of ways considered. I insisted that it be left up to the voters. There was a bond referendum, and the people voted for it. We now have a fine and much-used center."

Webb served as a board member and treasurer of the United Fund, predecessor of the United Way, and helped create it from the former Community Chest.

An overseas World War II veteran, he is a past commander of Amvets Post 51, holding the post's top position for five years and occupying the position of Amvets service officer for 15 years.

He has been active as a member of the Madison County Veterans' Commission and has long-time church affiliations, including Hope Lutheran Church.

His memberships have included the Odd Fellows Lodge, Granite City Steel Employees Credit Union board. He has been active in the credit union for the past 30 years.

His wife is Nancy and his sons are Danny, 21, and Todd, 18. His daughters are Laurie, 20, and Nichole, eight years old, and he has an infant granddaughter.

Webb says he takes his county duties seriously and conscientiously, but also enjoys them greatly.

"I have been fortunate to be able to serve in ways that are helpful to the people of Madison County. This is a source of great satisfaction to me, and I hope to continue performing these services."

He takes particular pleasure in a published comment by a correspondent who usually is highly critical of elected officials.

The words that were used to describe Webb, were consistent, honest, fair and effective.

A candidate with a reputation for crusading on grassroots issues, Hawkins, Township trustee, first announced her challenge to incumbent William B. Webb last August.

The two are running for nomination to the Madison County Board District 19 board position currently held by Webb. They are opponents in the March 16 Democratic primary.

Mrs. Hawkins has been an active participant in community discussions for a number of years. Although now serving her first term as a township trustee, she received more votes in the 1977 township election than had an opponent. She was denied the seat due to a technicality.

Serving her fourth term as Democratic precinct committee member for Nameoki Precinct Five, she is running for that office again this year.

According to the candidate, she has a reputation for "saying no." The county-board aspirant says that in view of the proposed federal budget she envisions further financial belt-tightening and accompanying local cuts.

"The board will need somebody that can take the pressure," she said, referring to those who might oppose budget cuts which could include job reductions.

Mrs. Hawkins said she would not enjoy voting to lay off county employees, but feels such action may become necessary for a balanced budget.

"I think 1983 is going to be rough, with less federal funding," she said.

If elected, she wants to serve the board's sewer committee because she believes residents in unincorporated areas are "not getting a fair shake."

Mrs. Hawkins cites "ever-increasing user fees" as a prime reason for the board to take a new look at sewage use billing. She said the board needs to be made aware of the financial problems facing some residents of the Madison County Special Sewer Area 1.

"It's chasing a lot of people out of here," she said, if possible help to those on fixed incomes might be a change from charges based on a flat rate to rates based on the water flow of each household, Mrs. Hawkins asserted.

She does not believe some county board members are aware of the "two-way tax program" affecting some county sewer users, who must pay a monthly fee as well as a yearly property tax.

For city residents, she promises to play the role of "watchdog" by regularly attending the meetings of various taxing bodies, in addition to county board meetings.

Most problems faced by residents are best handled at specific committee meetings, she said. Only by attending those meetings will she be able to do the investigative work needed to solve individual problems, she said.

"Just being at the right place at the right time" is how she describes her approach. She would "attend discussions wherever my district feels I'm needed most."

The candidate said she would regularly attend county board meetings, and pointed to a drop in average attendance since members have been provided a yearly salary rather than being paid on a per-meeting basis.

"I understand they just don't show up," Mrs. Hawkins said, although she qualified this by saying some members have better attendance than others.

She said she would be able to make the county board job a full-time occupation. As a board member, she said, she would encourage the development of job opportunities and an atmosphere attractive to industry.

"I can envision some sort of (county) committee to help promote industry to come into town," Mrs. Hawkins said.

She would also promote a larger role for women in county government: "I think more women should be put on the Zoning Board of Appeals and other committees."

Mrs. Hawkins is a volunteer Madison County deputy registrar and recently elected secretary-treasurer of Madison County Township Officials.

She serves as secretary-treasurer of Nameoki committee members and is a charter member of the Granite City Democratic Club.

In 1972, she was appointed by former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to help study possible boundary changes affecting the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District. In 1974, she supported a move to replace the levee district with the Metro-East Sanitary District.

She is a member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce drainage committee.

Mrs. Hawkins is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 113, where she has received certificates of appreciation and recognition for participation in veterans' activities.

She regards her most rewarding activity as assisting the Crippled and Trainable Children's Program sponsored by Church Women United.

Mrs. Hawkins, 2600 Angela Drive, has resided in the District 19 area for 16 years. Her husband is Dr. Hubert A. Hawkins, optometrist. She has two children, Debra and Mark.

$25,000 BOND
Leroy Brown, 17, East St. Louis, was being held in the Madison County Jail, pending the posting of a $25,000 cash bond on a charge of burglary. Brown is allegedly implicated in a Sunday-evening burglary in the 1100 block of Weaver St., Venice. Although the residence was ransacked, Brown allegedly only took a shaver. A neighbor telephoned the Venice police and Brown was caught within minutes after the call.

Easter seal Lily Days April 2-4

The Easter Seal Society campaign on March 1 through April 11 is the subject of a proclamation issue by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City.

He said the city recognizes that "the Easter Seal Society is the oldest and largest organization serving handicapped children and adults."

"It is dependent solely on public contributions and volunteer efforts for the continuation of its operation and services."

"The Easter seal campaign is sponsored by the National Easter Seal Society and the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois and will be conducted through April 11, with April 2, 3 and 4 being designated as Lily Days."

"I call on all citizens to join in the efforts to support the Easter Seal Society," the proclamation concludes.

WELDER STOLEN
James Blankenship, Melville, Mo., reported to the Madison police at 10:35 a.m. Monday that a welder and several tools were taken from his truck, parked on the south end of Washington Street. A padlock was apparently cut with bolt cutters.

12—Thursday, March 4, 1982, GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD
GC native coordinates building of dream house

The Woman's Day magazine award-winning "House for the '80s," featured in an eight-page color spread in the March issue, was designed by a University of Illinois school of architecture student and the project coordinator for its construction was a former Granite Cityan.

Christopher Fye, who graduated from the U. of I. in 1981 with a bachelor's degree in architectural studies, designed the house when he was a senior, winning a competition sponsored by the magazine.

The magazine has featured original house designs since 1948, all chose for "their ability to meet the needs of large numbers of readers," Editor Geraldine Rhoads said.

The magazine invited students to design a medium-priced home with a maximum of 1,500 square feet. Professor James Warfield, a Granite City native, with Professors David Chaspe and Walter Lewis supervised the year-long project.

Fye's design was chosen from 30 entries by a jury consisting of Rhoads; John De Santis, decorating editor; architect Herman York, and Hubbard Cobb, former editor of the American Home and a contributing editor of Woman's Day.

The award-winning design has been built by Woman's Day in the Tipton Lakes section of Columbus, Ind., a community noted for its outstanding architecture. About 2,000 persons visited the house recently when the magazine sponsored a two-day open house.

Fye's prize consisted of "lots of glory," he said. "It's quite an honor to have your first house built in a community that prides itself on notable architecture."

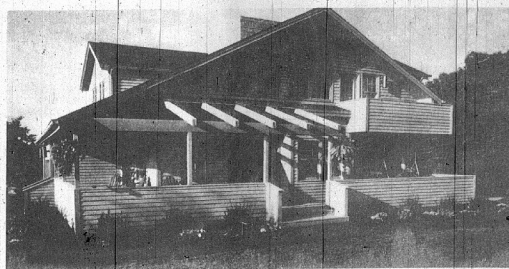

"My biggest concern was keeping an open, spacious feeling in a house that could be only 1,500 square feet in size. My solution was an interior courtyard with the upstairs bedrooms all looking into the two-story living room."

"Every room in the house draws space from it," he said. "The downstairs is really all one big room with kitchen and dining room separated from the living room by the two-story fireplace."

Professor Warfield, project coordinator, is a 1960 graduate of Granite City High School South. He is an architect and principal in his own Champaign-based firm, James P. Warfield, architect.

Warfield, an associate professor of architecture, has been head design critic of the Senior Design Studio of the School of Architect at the U. of I. since 1972.

An active faculty member in the graduate program also, Warfield was named in 1980 and 1981 to the student-selected "List of Excellent Teachers" at the University of Illinois. Professor Warfield currently is a 1981-82 fellow in interdisciplinary studies in the Department of Anthropology.

AWARD WINNER. This house, designed by a University of Illinois graduate, was constructed under the watchful eye of Professor James Warfield of the U of I, a Granite City native. The home was the winner of Woman's Day magazine's "House for the '80s" award and is featured in the March 9 issue.

6 CHARGES AGAINST PAIR IN DISTURBANCE
 Checking on reports of a disturbance in the 2400 block of Edwards Street late last week, police arrested Mark William Breeze, 22, of 2414 Iowa St. for disorderly conduct and then added a charge of resisting arrest.

Mark G. Trawick, 21, of 1917 Edwardsville Road, Madison, allegedly interfered with the arrest and was booked for obstructing police, resisting arrest, battery and aggravated assault. Trawick and an officer received emergency care at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Another officer's watchband was broken.

Initial tax cut impact being felt

When taxpayers file their 1981 Federal tax returns this year, they will automatically receive a 1.25 percent tax credit as a result of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981, the Internal Revenue Service said this week.

The tax credit, part of a total reduction goal of 23 percent between 1981 and 1984, is built into the 1981 income tax table and also reflected in the tax rate schedule computation used by taxpayers who cannot use the tax table.

While the credit is 1.25 percent, the actual effect on each taxpayer depends in part on the taxpayer's individual circumstances, including marital status and financial investments.

The 1.25 percent tax credit corresponds to a five percent reduction in the withholding after Sept. 30, 1981.

There will be additional 10 percent reductions effective in July 1982 and July 1983. A five percent reduction in 1984 will complete the total tax reduction package.

Beginning in 1985, the law provides for a new concept called "indexing." "Indexing" means that the individual income tax brackets, the personal exemption, and the zero bracket amount will be adjusted for inflation as measured by changes in the Consumer Price Index.

To provide more information concerning the tax reduction credit and indexing, the IRS offers the free Publication 553, "Highlights of 1981 Tax Changes," available by using the order blank in each tax package.

STOLEN CAMPER UNIT LOOTED, ABANDONED

A 1973 half-ton pickup truck with camper shell, stolen from the Central Hardware parking lot at 9:15 p.m. Feb. 18, was found late last week parked on Ninth Street near Clark Avenue in St. Louis. It was towed here at the request of the owner, Jay Verdu, 27 Arlington Drive.

Its ignition had been punched out, and missing from the truck were tools, sleds, a stereo unit with speakers, a lantern, blankets, supplies and equipment valued at more than $1,000.

How to save over $250,000 for your retirement!

Take advantage of the new tax law. Open your own IRA (Individual Retirement Account), now. Open one by the time you're 40 and you can accumulate as much as a quarter of a million dollars for your retirement. You'll get big tax breaks along the way, too.

Every wage earner is eligible

Now every worker in America (full or part time) is eligible for a tax-sheltered IRA, even if already covered by a company or Keogh pension plan. You can save up to $2,000 a year (up to $4,000 a year if both husband and wife work) in an IRA. And, your IRA funds are earning interest all the time until you retire.

| Current Age | Total deposit at age 65 (At $2,000/yr.) | Value at age 65 | Receive this every month for 22 years |
|-------------|------------------------------------------|-----------------|---------------------------------------|
| 30 | $70,000 | $920,124 | $8,267 |
| 35 | 60,000 | 518,769 | 5,225 |
| 40 | 50,000 | 288,950 | 2,910 |
| 45 | 40,000 | 157,354 | 1,584 |
| 50 | 30,000 | 82,001 | 825 |
| 55 | 20,000 | 40,583 | 391 |
| 60 | 10,000 | 14,147 | 142 |

Tax breaks now, when you need them

An IRA provides two big tax benefits. Your tax-deferred annual contributions are deductible from your current before-tax income. And, likewise, taxes on IRA earnings are deferred until you retire. Then, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket and pay much less in actual tax dollars as you withdraw the money. Who can't use tax breaks like those?

More income in retirement

Whether you're 30 or 55, opening your own IRA is one of the smartest investments you can make. As you can see, you'll have more for retirement and realize substantial tax benefits, now. Stop in soon and open your own IRA.

Medicinal Drugs is Trio Unit program

The Trio Unit Home Extensions held its monthly meeting at Hope Lutheran Church with 29 members and three guests, Martha Bischoff, Jean Butch and Ruth Smith, present. Hostesses for the meeting were Florence Rapp, Ivan Graklanoff and Genevieve McComis.

The meeting was opened with the pledge of the flag led by the chairman Pat Mitchell. Arline Brinkmeyer and Audrey Nagly gave the lesson on "Medicinal Drugs and the Consumer." It was called to our attention that roughly $5 billion is spent annually on the 300,000 or so over the counter drugs available to consumers. The potential for unwise purchases is considerable, when one considers that these 300,000 products contain only about 500 significant active ingredients. Questions about drug interactions, pricing, generic vs. brand name products, and the drug side effects, are surfacing with increasing regularity. A drug is anything taken internally or put on your body that will change the structure of your body or its function. They also advised to have good communication with your pharmacist, and it is there to help you with your questions.

Ruth Brave reported on the luncheon the unit served as "kick off" meeting for new members.

Helen Robertson, family life chairman, asked for volunteers to deliver Mobil Meals, and Min Lee and Ruth Brave agreed to serve. Cultural Arts Chairman, Helen Townes announced there is to be an Art Exhibit, March 16-17-18, at the University of Illinois. She also noted the Craft Workshop will be held in March 30, at 9:30 a.m.

Ruth Brave, 4-H chairman, said a "Share the Fun" night will be held at Edwardsville High School, March 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Pat Mitchell explained a new committee is being formed for the young homemakers and appointed Margaret Gehling to represent the unit on this committee. Naomi Chapman, entertainment chairman, announced the District Meeting will be held, May 18, at 12 noon at St. John United Church of Christ. The price of the tickets is $4 and the registration deadline is May 4.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Helen Townes, Helen Miller and Ada Matras.

She also announced that a new volunteer orientation was conducted by the USO on Saturday.

working on arrangements for the forthcoming Memorial Day service to be hosted by the auxiliary.

Women's history observance here

The U.S. Congress has designated March 7-13 as National Women's History Week. To celebrate the week and to recognize contributions of women in history, the Metro-East National Organization for Women and Metro-East Women's Political Caucus are providing educational materials to junior high schools and public libraries. The schools and libraries are in Alton, Beloit, Collinsville, East Alton, Edwardsville, Granite City, Roxana, Wood River and Hartford.

The posters list chronologically the names of 222 women who have made significant contributions, along with a selection of their accomplishments. The posters and cards are intended to enhance displays and spark research and discussion regarding the contributions of women. It is also hoped to encourage young girls to explore varied career possibilities and to use their talents to the fullest degree.

A spokesman said use of the cards can increase awareness of the contributions of women to society, counteract sex-role stereotyping, introduce a wide variety of career possibilities, and add to knowledge of current events and issues.

Metro-East National Organization for Women is presenting posters to the same schools and to the public libraries in those cities.

Each "superstar" is uniquely accomplished in her field, a fourrunner or a prize winner who can serve as a role model for young people.

State police concentrate on reducing drunk drivers

In July, 1981, the Illinois State Police initiated a new program known as P.F.R. (Policing For Results). This is a new concept of police work where results are being watched instead of the number of arrests made. The program is realizing the most efficient and effective police work for the manpower and cost involved.

With the implementation of the program, District 11 has selected as its primary objectives the following:

1.—To reduce the number of accidents involving the drinking driver.

2.—To reduce the rate and severity of accidents that occur on highways that have been identified as having a greater accident rate than other roads.

3.—To encourage compliance to the National Mandated Speed Limit (55mph).

4.—To insure a safer traffic environment for all citizens using Illinois highways through a continued high supervision of second division vehicle safety regulations and of hazardous and radioactive shipments.

5.—To reduce the number of stolen vehicles.

Captain Laimutis A. Nargelenas, commander of District 11, Maryville, said, "since the implementation of the PFR program, we have increased our efforts towards our number one objective by making more DUI (Driving Under The Influence) and other alcohol related arrests."

During January, District 11 troopers initiated 50 DUI arrests, compared to 35 arrests made in January, 1981. The district had a total of 312 DUI arrests for 1981. Complaints against establishments that sell alcoholic beverages have resulted in four raids on local taverns by the Illinois State Police. Arrests were made for selling alcoholic beverages by minors.

Captain Nargelenas said, "Investigation of complaints against establishments that sell alcoholic beverages will continue and the proper enforcement action will be taken to ensure that minors are not served and that all laws are complied with."

Drivers license checks will be held at various locations and troopers will be alert for drinking drivers and illegal possession of alcoholic beverages by minors. "Strict enforcement of the D.U.I. law

Governor recommends $3.76 billion for public education in Illinois

Governor James R. Thompson announced last week that he will recommend levels of funding in fiscal year 1983 of $1.21 billion for higher education and $2.55 billion for elementary and secondary education.

Thompson told the chairmen of the Board of Higher Education and the State Board of Education that those figures will be higher if the General Assembly approves the governor's recommended increase in the state liquor tax.

"Obviously, this budget does not meet your expectations," Thompson told the chairmen in letters, "but it does represent the maximum support possible within severely constrained revenues and the many demands on these revenues. If new revenues become available, I will recommend that education and mental health receive top priority in the allocations."

In higher education, passage of the governor's allocation will mark the second year in a row that general revenue funding for higher education has reached $1 billion.

In all funds, the Governor's higher education allocation represents an increase of $16.7 million, or 1.4 percent over the Fiscal 1982 appropriations level for operation and grants. General Revenue funding would drop $1.1 million, or 1.8 percent, below the Fiscal 1982 GRF appropriation.

Thompson said he is encouraging the Board of Higher Education to continue "your exemplary efforts to fund economic development programs through internal reallocation, particularly in high technology, job training, business, and computer science areas." He also asked the Board of Higher Education to minimize the impact of this year's funding level on student financial aid.

Thompson suggested that the goal of restoring full payout by the state for the state Universities Retirement System (and lower education's teachers retirement system) "cannot realistically be accomplished in one year without devastating other vital state programs."

"I am recommending that retirement funding for the five state systems be restored to full payout over a period of several years. If we move from 62.5 percent of full payout in the current year to 70 percent for Fiscal 1983, an increase of 7.5 percent, a return to full payout can occur within five years," Thompson told the chairmen.

For higher education, the increase in funding for retirement will mean a $9.6 million hike, or 21.5 percent, to $54 million in Fiscal 1983.

The governor's proposed budget for elementary and secondary education represents a possible per pupil increase of between 5.4 percent and 7.7 percent for general state aid, depending on how the State Board distributes the total funds.

In terms of funding from total sources, the allocation represents a decrease of $69.9 million from Fiscal 1982 appropriations. General Revenue Funds would decline $35 million, or 1.7 percent, from Fiscal 1982 appropriations.

Thompson again thanked State Board of Education Chairman Edward Copeland for his support to the governor's proposal that the double school aid payment currently made in June be split between June and July, thereby helping alleviate any potential cash flow difficulties. He thanked the school Problems Commission for its support last week.

He suggested that retirement funding be increased to 70 percent of full payout from $186.3 million in Fiscal 1982 to $228.9 million in the upcoming year, an increase of $42.6 million, or 22.9 percent.

Even though the levels of allocation recommended by the Board of Higher Education and the state school superintendent are not possible, Thompson said, Illinois has not taken back state dollars promised to education in Fiscal 1982, as have other states.

"We are weathering our present economic difficulties with no disruption of services. We have retained our AAA bond rating, and I will present a balanced budget in fiscal 1983."

The letters were sent to Copeland and William B. Browder, chairman of the Board of Higher Education.

COLD CEREAL NOW 'HOT'
Five cases of cereal, 24 boxes to a case, with a value of $390 were stolen from a boxcar on Race Street in Madison, belonging to the Terminal Railroad. A 14-inch metal pipe was used to force entry.

Caution: speed enforcement program resumed Monday

The Illinois State Police are increasing their speed enforcement efforts by implementation of a Concentrated Speed Enforcement Program (CSEP).

Captain Laimutus A. Nargelenas, commander of District 11, said that the CSEP program was implemented on March 1 and will continue through August. CSEP patrols will be deployed along segments of highways that have been identified as having a high incidence of speed limit violations, utilizing off-duty

State Police Officers on a "hireback" basis as the principal source of manpower.

According to Captain Nargelenas, the objective of the program is to induce voluntary compliance to the national mandated speed limit (55 mph), through high visibility patrols and increased enforcement.

The areas in District 11 where CSEP patrols will work include Interstate 64 from Interstate 55 to the Clinton County line (Kaskaskia River), I-70 from Route 143 to Route 127 in Greenville, and I-55 from mile post 10 to Route 142. The Concentrated Speed Enforcement program has been successfully utilized during the year 1980 and 1981, Nargelenas said.

Chromalloy dividend cut

The board of directors of Chromalloy American Corporation on Tuesday declared its regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share on its $5 cumulative convertible preferred stock and 22.5 cents per share on its common stock, payable

May 3 to stockholders of record on April 1. The 22.5 cents per share dividend is a reduction of five cents per common share from the previous quarterly dividend.

Frank P. Nykiel, president and chief executive officer, said this quarterly dividend reduction "is prudent action at this time in light of current economic activity." In separate action, Chromalloy board announced that its annual meeting of stockholders is scheduled for May 12 for stockholders of record as of March 19. Thirteen present directors have been nominated for election at the annual meeting.

Chromalloy is the parent firm of Precoat Metals.

Outlook for jobs — unlimited

(This is the last in a series of 15 articles exploring "Working: Changes and Choices." In this article, economist Isabel V. Sawhill of the Urban Institute analyzes the impact of government policies and social and economic changes on the workforce of the future. Copyright (c) 1981 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By ISABEL V. SAWHILL
The year 2000 is gaining on us. Almost everyone who will be in the workforce then has already been born.

Thus, as Americans attempt to plan careers, businesses, and families, they are not being unduly "futuristic" when they wonder what work opportunities will exist at the dawn of the second millennium.

What kinds of jobs will be available? And in what numbers?

Crystal-ball gazing is risky business: one never knows what unexpected developments may occur, or how people will react to social and economic changes.

Nevertheless, one can make some informed guesses based, in part, on existing trends.

Let's begin with what we know about the future with greatest certainty.

First of all, apart from some real demographic "surprises" such as a sudden surge in immigration or a sharp drop in mortality rates — we already know approximately how many men and women will be of working age at the turn of the century.

But the size of the workforce is more difficult to predict; it will depend on how people will divide their time between work and other activities, such as homemaking, and leisure.

Historically, teenagers, women, and the elderly have been less likely to work than adult men, but these patterns appear to be changing.

We cannot assume that the future will repeat the past. In recent years there has been a large influx of women and teenagers into the job market, while adult men, especially blacks and those over 55, have been working less.

Over half of all adult women, including many married women with young children — are now in the labor force. The marked rise in their property ownership usually attributed to smaller families, more education, higher wages (which in turn reduces the cost of staying home), and the revolution in attitudes toward women's roles.

Men, in turn, are working less because of greater affluence and the availability of more generous Social Security benefits, pensions, and disability insurance.

Whether these trends continue or not will depend on how many new jobs the economy produces, and on social mores, and shifts in government policy.

There is currently no hard evidence to support the belief of "supply side" economists that reducing people's taxes, and thereby increasing their take-home pay, unleashes a flood-tide of work effort. But government policies can affect the decision of whether or not to work.

For example, retirement decisions often depend on the age at which one becomes eligible for Social Security. That age is likely to be raised in response to the fiscal squeeze a greying America will be putting on the system.

This change in policy — together with such factors as greater longevity and continued inflation, which erodes people's savings — could easily reverse the trend toward earlier retirements.

Taking some (although not all) of these factors into consideration, government statisticians estimate that, by the year 2000, the labor force will be almost one-third (about 31 million people) larger than it is today.

It will also be older, with the average age increasing from 35 to 38 years as the "baby boom" generation matures.

Finally, it will be more diverse, with much higher proportions of what (because more of them will work) and of minorities (because of higher birth rates among most minority groups).

EDUCATION AND JOBS
What kinds of jobs will be available to this larger workforce?

In the past, educational qualifications have been a major determinant of the kind of work one secured, and the educational level of Americans has risen steadily.

Since 1960, for example, the average number of years of education of the workforce as a whole rose from 12.0 to 12.6, and the proportion of adults 25 years or over that has completed high school increased from 41 to 88 percent.

But the proportion of 18- to 19-year-olds going to college has dropped since the early 1970s, and the government projects only a marginal improvement in educational attainment in the next 10 years.

Why has the American drive toward ever-higher levels of schooling slowed down?

Currently, an oversupply of educated young people has lowered the extra earnings to be expected from attending college, and has bumped college-educated youth down the occupational ladder.

Over the past decade, for example, the proportion of employed college graduates working in professional and technical jobs fell by nine percent among men and 16 percent among women.

Job opportunities in these categories simply have not kept pace with the number of college-trained workers.

Moreover, with the exception of a few fields such as engineering and nursing, professional and technical job opportunities are not expected to grow particularly rapidly over the next decade.

Clerical, sales, and service jobs, on the other hand, are finding ways to increase at above-average rates. But these are not the kinds of jobs to which college graduates are traditionally aspired.

Still another significant trend is the decline in unionization since the mid-1960s. Today, only about one-fifth of the labor force is unionized.

While there has been a sharp increase in unionism among public employees, this has been more than offset by declines in the private sector.

This trend is partly related to the changing demographic and industrial composition of the labor force: women and educated workers are notoriously difficult to organize; blue-collar workers are more willing to organize than white-collar workers.

A reversal of this trend seems unlikely, barring labor law reforms which have recently had little political support.

FAMILY AND WORK PATTERNS
Of major significance for both work and family life is the tremendous rise in the number of two-earner and single-parent households, a phenomenon that is related to the influx of women into the labor market.

In 1960, 43 percent of all households consisted of a married couple with only one spouse in the labor force; by 1975, this had dropped to 35 percent, and by 1990, it is projected to be only 14 percent.

When both parents work outside the home, they want jobs that offer shorter or more flexible hours, that are closer to home, and that make provisions for the inevitable conflicts that arise when home repairs, shopping, or sick children compete for their attention.

In the future, employers may thus be forced to offer more paid time off for these activities, day care, "flexitime," and similar working conditions.

For so, families of the future will have a much harder time juggling their multiple responsibilities.

Young couples will have to choose between the higher income that two paychecks provide and the possible benefits to children of having one parent at home.

Another problem will be the difficulties that job-related transfers from one city to another pose for two-career families. Firms that have traditionally moved managers around the country may find that younger professionals are unwilling to jeopardize a spouse's career by frequent moves.

Finally, there are crucial questions of whether there will be enough jobs for all those who want to work, whether they will be satisfying jobs, and whether they will pay enough to keep intact the American dream of ever-rising standards of living.

Here our crystal ball becomes especially cloudy. Yet, if one squints, there is some reason for offering an optimistic forecast.

Current difficulties, including high rates of both inflation and unemployment, coupled with a slowdown in the growth of productivity and in the standard of living — cannot be ignored.

Nevertheless, history suggests that, over the longer run, the economy eventually adjusts to absorb a growing population and labor force.

Moreover, each generation has been better off than the previous one, as rising levels of educational attainment — together with improved productivity and eliminated the least desirable jobs.

Over this longer period, the basic limits on the economy can produce and consume are set by the talent and training of the population and their desire to work, not by short-run fluctuations in the level of spending and prices.

Vandalia upsets Madison, advances to finals

UP AND OVER. Mark Madgett (35) of Madison shoots over the outstretched arm of Vandalia's Mark Taylor. Madison lost the heart breaker to Vandalia 73-71 in first round of the class A sectional tournament.

VANDALIA — No one would blame Madison basketball coach Larry Graham if he was disappointed with the outcome of Tuesday's game in the Vandalia Class A Sectionals, a 73-71 loss to the host Vandals.

No, maybe upset would be a much better word than disappointed.

Obviously, the loss ended the season for the Trojans, the 1981 Class A champions. That alone would be disappointing.

What upset Graham was the manner in which the Trojans lost the game. Madison didn't play as well as Graham thought the Trojans were capable of doing. Graham was upset about some of the officials' calls. Perhaps those factors let to his biggest disappointment.

With time running out, the Trojans fouled Vandalia's Mark Daniels, who had brought down the rebound from a missed shot. The officials ruled the foul was intentional, and Taylor received two shots.

The Trojans contended the foul was not intentional but to no avail. Taylor made the first shot, and Madison guard Billy Papa slammed the ball on the floor and was given a technical foul.

Taylor missed his second foul shot, but Jeff Mefford made the technical foul shot to produce the final margin. "We just weren't ready. I think we gave up with a second to go. It was me that we quit like that. That technical should never have happened," Graham said.

"The whistle was way late after the call," Graham said about the foul. "Then the official gives him two shots. They said it was an intentional foul, but you're supposed to be going for the ball when it's tied with seconds to go. What do they think, that we are stupid enough to foul intentionally in that situation?"

The blame did not rest solely with the officials. "We played as poorly as the officials called the game," Graham said. "They were killing us on the boards. Our weak side forwards weren't blocking out."

"When the pressure was on in the clutch, we didn't execute. It was the little things we didn't do that hurt us," Graham said.

For instance in the fourth quarter, Madison made just seven of 18 shots from the field. "We got the rebounds, but we missed a lot of easy shots," Graham said.

With 59 seconds to go in the game, Papa was called for an intentional foul. The Trojans also protested that call, saying Papa was going for the ball. Taylor shot these free throws too. He missed the first, but made the second, giving Vandalia a 69-67 lead.

Madison center Mark Zarr scored with 46 seconds to tie the game. The Vandals' Kirk Doehring made two free throws to give Vandalia the lead with 38 seconds.

Instead of going with the one shot at the end, the Trojans went with a quick attack. "We executed well defensively. We attacked on defense. We did everything but hit the free throws," Ohlendorf said.

North jumped to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter thanks to strong defensive rebounding. Edwardsville soon learned out with 13 seconds left, and Mark Daniels tried the shot and missed. Taylor got the rebound, and the rest was history.

"The last 13 seconds, we were going to hold it and win or go into overtime," Vandalia coach Rick Moss said.

Both teams were tied after the first quarter, 16-all, and at halftime, 34-all. With 3:10 to go in the third quarter, the Trojans had a five point lead, but Taylor was instrumental in changing that to a Vandalia one point lead by the end of the quarter.

Taylor, who led all scorers with 27 points, scored six points in those final moments to put the Vandals in the lead.

"We wanted to get the lead back then because Madison is so hard to try to comeback against," Moss said. "I'm real pleased we beat a team the caliber of Madison."

Moss, a former coach at Highland St. Paul was particularly happy about this one. "I had to come here and make Vandalia my home court before I could beat that stinkin' Graham."

Besides Taylor, Kirk Doehring scored 14 points and Mefford had 10 points for Vandalia.

Madison had balanced scoring. Carvel Claggett led the Trojans with 18 points, Mark Madgett scored 16. Papa had 15, all in the second half, and Manson had 10 points.

"We gave Madison a little press. We weren't worried about forcing turnovers. We just wanted to make them work the ball more and keep them from going inside. We did that late when Papa started taking it to the hole, but that wasn't until the second half when Papa started doing that," Moss said. Zarr was held to six points, but he was forced to sit out much of the second quarter because he picked up his third foul with 5:15 remaining in the quarter. The Trojans finished the season with a 21-4 record. Vandalia plays Friday in the championship game of the finals.

Steelers downed by Tigers, end season 9 - 17

By ROGER KRAMER

GRANITE CITY — Bill Ohlendorf is a firm believer records do not always indicate how good a basketball team is. Granite City North finished the season with a 9-17 record Wednesday with a 60-56 loss to Edwardsville in the first round of North's Class AA Regional at Granite South. A person would expect Ohlendorf to be disappointed. He wasn't.

"I'm proud of these kids," Ohlendorf said. "I thought the boys played good for their ability level. We lost 10 of our games by seven points or less."

"They came in fired up for this game. I'm not disappointed with them. We fumbled the ball a few times and missed our free throws, and we could have won the game. Our effort was good, and we took it to them the whole game," Ohlendorf said.

The Steelers didn't lose because they didn't try. The Steelers made only four of 11 free throws for the game, and they did not shoot a free throw in the second half.

On the other hand, Edwardsville made eight of 12 free throws for the game, five of six in the final 1:07 of the game. That was the difference in the game.

"That's the key in any game," Edwardsville coach Bud Vallino said. "We hit four more free throws than they did. That should tell you something about how important they were."

Granite North saw a 42-39 fourth quarter lead melt away in the first four minutes of that period. The Tigers, unable to get their inside game going in the first three periods because of North's pressure, finally found Paul Schaefer and Kevin Mosby inside.

Edwardsville took a 48-44 lead with 4:41 to go and threatened to run away from the Steelers. North's Mike Sullivan helped North stay in the game.

Sullivan, who scored North's first eight points with jump shots, scored the last of those baskets with 3:30 to go. That shot got the Steelers going again.

Carl Luehmann made a pair of 20-footers, and Harold Rody scored with 1:45, and North led 54-53. However, Schaefer scored to put the Tigers ahead for good, and the Tigers made those five free throws to clinch the game.

North's missed free throws in the first half cost them the game, but North was able to maintain a lead for most of the game because of its full court, 1-2 press and the pressure the Steelers kept on Schaefer and Brad Thomas.

Schaefer ended up with 22 points, but Ohlendorf wasn't disappointed about not containing him.

"It's hard to defend a 6-7 kid with a 5-10 kid. After a while, he was able to get open," Ohlendorf said. "He's got to be a good player if schools like Missouri are talking to him."

North jumped to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter thanks to strong defensive rebounding. Edwardsville soon learned the ropes of North's defense and eventually took control of the boards.

"We were out of position," Vallino said. "We took our shots before we were in position to get the rebound. After about three or four times down the court, we got our bearings and rebounded much better."

Also scoring in double figures for the Tigers was Mosby, who had 12 points. Luehmann and Sullivan led North with 12 points each. No other Steeler scored in double figures.

Sullivan hit a key shot for us when he made a 20 foot that cut the lead from five to three," Ohlendorf said.

"Edwardsville was going for the blowout then, and that stopped it. "Carl hasn't received a whole lot of press this year, but he's as good as any guard in the (Gateway East) conference," Ohlendorf said. The Steelers made 26 of 55 shots from the field, and the Tigers made 26 of 51 shots.

"I thought we really did a good job," Ohlendorf said.

Edwardsville will play the Oilers Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the South gym for the Regional championship.

COLLINSVILLE

Tempo.

A very slow, controlled tempo. Granite City South knew the only way they could beat East St. Louis Lincoln would be to take away Lincoln's running game.

And for the most part, Lincoln was forced to play South's slow paced style. The change in the flow of the game frustrated Lincoln. But not enough.

For the factors which ultimately allowed Lincoln the 44-31 victory over South in the Collinsville regional tournament last night were factors a team can not stop.

Such as height. Quickness. Jumping ability.

Lincoln's starting line up featured two players at 6'2, one player at 6'5 and two players at 6'6. All were quick. All could jump.

Those traits allowed Lincoln to dominate the boards, both offensively and defensively, and intimidate the South players while shooting. South's tallest starter is 6'3 Pat Linhart.

Detering, South's head coach, had no qualms about the way his team played. The only aspect of the game he would have changed was their shooting percentage. South shot a cool 22 percent from the field on 12 out of 54 shooting.

"The only thing is they didn't hit. I can't fault them for that," Detering said. "You can fault them for not hustling, for not playing aggressively but you can't fault them for not shooting. They were trying. That's all you can ask."

The taller, quicker, higher leaping Lincoln players were a large factor in South's poor shooting. In fact, they were intimidating.

South's first shot of the game, a baseline jump shot by team leading scorer Pat Linhart, was blocked.

Detering felt the psychological impact of that blocked shot haunted the players in the back of their minds for the entire game. Knowing a tall, high jumping Lincoln player could reject South's shots had to affect the players.

"We were open when we got the ball but they went to shoot, they were there. That was the difference," Detering said.

"I felt we outplayed them except we didn't shoot very well and their height took its toll. I think in all the other areas we outplayed them."

Benjie Lewis, Lincoln's head coach, said they expected South to slacken the pace of the game.

"In the last few ballgames we've had this slow down game," Lewis said. "At first, when we ran against it, the guys were disgruntled with it. They've gotten used to it by now."

Detering was pleased his players had enough discipline and poise to change from their normal running offense into the slower paced style of play.

"We felt we controlled the tempo. That's what we came in for. Unfortunately, we didn't hit the basket," Detering said.

"We controlled the tempo. They didn't get their running game going. We wanted them to get anxious when they got the ball and I think we were successful."

South forced Lincoln to turn over the ball 24 times. South committed 14 turnovers.

South's scoring was mainly from outside jump shots. "We just didn't feel we could go inside. If we did get the ball inside, they were so intimidating," Detering said.

Pat Linhart was the only South player in double figures, scoring 10 points. Joe Schneck added eight points with KMcManus 6, P. Linhart 10, J. Linhart 1, FG-12, FT-7.

SIUE grapplers finish third nationally

Led by the All-American performances of four individuals, the wrestling Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville turned in their best team effort since 1973 by collecting third place-honors last weekend at the 49th-anniversary NCAA Division II National Championships in Parkville, Wis.

The Cougars, who also extended their streak to nine consecutive years of finishing in the top six places, fell short of California State University, Bakersfield's 166.5 points and North Dakota State University's 78.75, while posting 61.75 points. The University of Nebraska-Omaha took home fourth place honors with 51.25 points, while Ashland College of Ohio rounded out the top five with 49.25 points.

The Cougars, who finished fourth at last year's post-season spectacular, were paced by newly-crowned All-Americans Don Stevens (126 pounds), Booker Benford (167 pounds), Joe Glaser (190 pounds) and heavyweight Al Sears. Stevens, a sophomore from Tinley Park, swept his way into the championship match before collecting his runner-up award with a 12-5 setback to Dan Cuestas of Cal. State Bakersfield. Stevens, who finished the regular season with an impressive 34-7 record and the NCAA-II Midwest Regional championship, will continue his 1981-82 season March 11 as the only SIUE representative to the NCAA-I championships in Ames, Iowa.

Benford, a freshman from Providence, R.I., was the next Cougar sent to the awards stand as he marched his way to the semi-finals before suffering his first loss and finishing fifth in overall competition. Despite being just a freshman, Benford did let his inexperience bother him this season as he posted a 21-10 regular-season record and won the NCAA-II Midwest Regional.

Like Benford, Glaser marched into the semi-finals undefeated only to have his championship hopes spoiled. A junior from Cary, Glaser finished fourth overall after posting a 25-8 regular-season record and a regional championship. Heavyweight Al Sears, the freshman from Wheaton who may emerge as the story of the season for the Cougars, concluded the scoring for SIUE by qualifying to the championship match and finishing second to Mark Rigatusa of the University of Nebraska-Omaha. Sears, who last week broke the long-standing SIUE record of 19 wins in a season, while marching through the NCAA-II Midwest Regional Championships, ended the regular season with 12 consecutive victories. Three pins later, and a regional championship safely tucked away, Sears made his first appearance on the national level and walked away with the silver medal.

Exceptions in plan for gym suits

The Board of Education corrected its Feb. 16 minutes on Tuesday night to emphasize there are certain exceptions and exemptions in Granite City school district's new policy on gym suits for high school and junior high school girls.
The minutes show a 4-3 vote to approve a suggested physical education uniform.
The new attire—blue
shorts and white blouses with red "Granite City" lettering on the blouses—is to be compulsory for all seventh through twelfth grade students starting with the fall 1982 semester.
Board members stressed
Tuesday night, as they had on Feb. 16, that gym uniforms currently owned by students can still be utilized until they are worn out.
Boys currently have two-piece outfits and girls have one-piece gym suits, with some of the colors differing among the five schools.
Exceptions to the 1982-83
uniform program take into account families' religious beliefs and economic problems.
In addition, certain other optional approaches are given consideration by school authorities.
But, minimum-standard
"dress codes" for gymnasium and physical education classes will remain in effect and will be enforced, it was noted.
Now defined as somewhat
"optional," the uniform plan nevertheless will be suggested to all students.
And the patriotically colored

Elks Lodge celebrates its 75th anniversary March 17

A unique opportunity to meet both the national grand exalted ruler and the immediate past grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is being extended to members of Elks Lodge 1063, which is celebrating its 75th anniversary with a dinner Wednesday, March 17.

Both Grand Exalted Ruler Raymond V. Arnold of Jackson (Mich.) Lodge 113 and Past Grand Exalted Ruler H. Foster Sears of Macomb (Ill.) Lodge 1009 have agreed to attend the dinner and honor the 75 year old local lodge.

According to an historical write-up of the club, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks here was preceded by an organization known as the Jolly Corks. Similarly, the Granite City Elks Lodge was preceded by an organization known as the Granite City Club.

In early 1907, a group of members of the Granite City Club petitioned the grand exalted ruler to grant a charter for a new subordinate lodge. The charter was issued and dated March 1, 1907.

Gathered in the rooms of the Granite City Club located in the Keshner building, these men agreed to meet in a rented hall on the third floor of the Fleishman-

McNary Building on April 20, 1907, and participate in the ceremony of instituting a new lodge.

Ceremony from East St. Louis Lodge 664 (now located in Fairview Heights) and Alton Lodge 746 (now defunct) acted as Grand Lodge officers and instituted Granite City Lodge 1063. District Deputy John J. Faulkner led the institution ceremony.

Dr. W.H. Grayson was installed as the first exalted ruler. A bronze plaque in the Antler Room displays the names of the other officers and charter members in an honored position above the fireplace.

The fixtures and equipment of the Granite City Club were purchased and their social quarters in the Keshner building were occupied by the lodge members at a rental of $60 per month. Lodge meetings, however, continued to be held in the Fleishman-McNary Building as a cost of $6.25 per month.

Lodge 1063 proved to be a popular organization and it grew rapidly and soon required more room, according to the club's historical account. Lodge Brother Pleasant "Pop" Ward, planned a new three-story building at the southeast corner of 19th and State streets. He proposed to finish the top two floors to the lodge's satisfaction and least them for five years at the rate of $1,200 per year.

After spending the summer and early fall in planning and spending approximately $2,000 on furnishings, the Elks Hall became a reality and was dedicated Oct. 7, 1910. Afternoon and evening festivities included a visit by the district deputy and other Elk dignitaries, a dinner and a vaudeville show.

The ever-present desire by the Elks to own their own quarters caused Exalted Ruler C. Lynch in 1915 to appoint a committee to study the matter and to seek a suitable building location.

After looking at several sites, the committee and the trustees concluded an agreement with G.W. Niedringhaus, whereby two lots measuring 100 feet were acquired free. In February, 1917, an architect was engaged, plans were drawn and an order was given to proceed with construction.

The lodge was incorporated under the laws of Illinois, now that it was to own its own property. While the building was being constructed, a sustained effort was made to increase membership and to raise money, all under the duress of World War I.

The original cost of the building, fixtures and furniture was about $45,000. The move into the new Elks Lodge building was completed and it was dedicated Jan. 8, 1918.

The fortunes of Granite City Elks Lodge have, by and large, reflected prevailing economic conditions. Recession after World War I, when membership was down to around 250; boom times in the later 1920s, when it was up to 626, the low ebb of the depression and then the prosperity of World War II.

Then came the great day, March 9, 1946, when the lodge burned its mortgage.

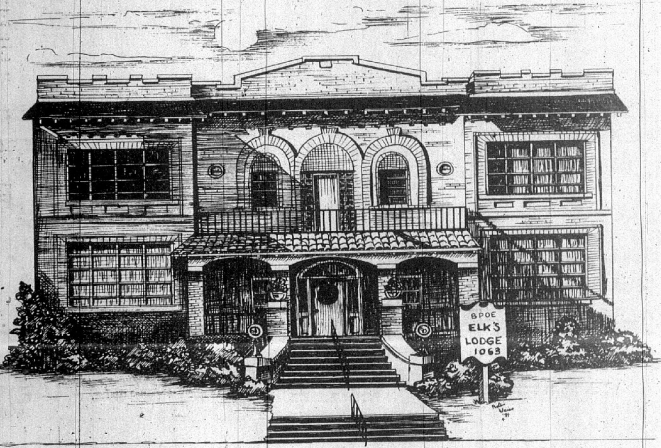

The years between have been marked by rather stable conditions. Each exalted ruler has left the mark of his stewardship upon the lodge in one way or another.

From time to time, minor remodeling has taken place on the exterior. Windows were changed and minor remodeling done, but the general appearance remains the same.

Inside, however, much has changed. New air conditioning and heating has been installed throughout. All floors have been completely remodeled, including expanded facilities on the top floor, mostly with donated help from dedicated members. As the lodge prepares to celebrate its 75th anniversary, the building is in excellent physical and financial condition, a spokesman said, adding, "Fraternally, we renew our pledge to charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity."

has changed very little on the outside from the original conception.

District officer addresses BPW club

Mary Rottman of Highland District XIV associate director and a member of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Foundation Committee, was guest speaker at the Granite City BPW Club's dinner meeting last week.

Rosalie Stern, local Foundation Committee co-chairman, was in charge of the program and announced the club will award two adult scholarships this year.

One grant will be awarded to a BPW member and the second to a Quad-City area resident in the health field. A third scholarship will be given to a high school student.

The names of those to receive the scholarships will be announced at the April awards night meeting, Mrs. Stern said.

Norma Dak and Dorothy Hill were welcomed and inducted into the club by Pearl Kennerly, membership chairman.

Mrs. Kennerly also conducted a "rally rally" for early membership registration. Participating were Ollie Derr, club president; Annellen Smith, Illinois BPW state president-elect; Lois Wetton, District 14 director; Pauline Weir, Lil Marzful, Helene Bischoff, Barbara Young, Dolores Allen, Ramona Burnett, Emylee Alford, Mrs. Kennerly and Mrs. Hill.

Norma Mendoza, State BPW Legislation chairman, spoke about the current status of the Equal Rights Amendment.

"There's still time to ratify ERA in Illinois, but the outlook for passage appears slim," she said. Rosemarie Lindner, Hospice public relations director, presented a plaque to Mrs. Derr in appreciation of the BPW's sponsorship of a benefit dinner-dance, which raised $2,000 for the Hospice program.

The appointment of Mrs. Derr to the Hospice Executive Board's advisory committee, also was announced by Mrs. Lindner.

Another BPW community service project was approved, involving the purchase of four flags, at a cost of $100, for presentation to the city of Granite City.

International Business Women's Week was commemorated with a candlelight ceremony, conducted by Mrs. Bischoff, Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Allen, and the club closed by led by LaVelle Stephens.

INJURY ON EDGEWOOD Ivor W. Roberts, 2001 Emerson Ave., suffered multiple injuries late last week when the right front of his southbound car hit the left rear of the parked car of Karen Guika, 3332 Aubrey Ave., in the 3100 block of Edgewood. He had reached to the floorboard of his auto to retrieve a cigarette immediately before the collision occurred.

HOSPITALIZED AFTER AUTO WRECK SUNDAY Paul Sutphin, 32, of 274 Sunny Shores, Mitchell, hurt in an auto accident, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center early this week.

In the crash, he received a possible head injury and multiple lacerations about the face.

Lenten series continues at Madison church

The second in a series of cooperative Quad-City United Methodist Lenten worship services will be held Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Madison United Methodist Church, Fifth Street and Ewing Avenue.

The Rev. Eugene Seaman, pastor of the Madison United Methodist Church, will bring the evening message.

Special music is to be provided by the "Stepping Stones."

The offerings received during each of the Lenten services will be used to support the "Church Extension" program of the Southern Illinois Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Plans are currently being developed to start a new United Methodist Church in the Glen Carbon-Cottonwood area in the near future, it was learned.

CPR TRAINING OFFERED The public is invited to attend Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) training at Emerson School, 20th Street and Benton Avenue, from 6 until 10 p.m. Monday, March 29. The cost of the training is $5 and persons must enroll by Friday, March 12. Information on enrolling is available by telephoning 877-2955.
